And moreouer the commons aforeſayd haue ſayde that the things ſo attempted, be clearely againſt the kings crowne & his regality, vſed and approoued in the time of al his progenitors: Wherfore they and all the liege commons of the ſame realme wil ſtand with our ſaide ſoueraigne Lord the king, and his ſaid crowne, and his regalitie in the caſes aforeſaid, & in all other caſes attempted againſt him, his Crowne, and his regality in all pointes, to liue and to die. And moreouer they haue prayed the king, and him required by way of iuſtice, that he would examine all the Lords in the Parliament, as wel Spirituall as temporall ſeuerally, and al the States of the parliament, how they thinke of the caſes aforeſaide, which be ſo openly againſt the kings crown, & in derogation of his regality, and how they will ſtand in the ſame caſes with our Soueraigne Lord the king, in vpholding the rights of the ſaide Crowne and regalitie. Whereupon the Lords Temporall ſo demaunded, haue anſwered euery one by himſelfe, that the caſes aforeſayd be clearely in derogation of the kings Crowne, and of his regality, as it is well knowen, & hath bene of a long time knowen, and that they will ſtand with the ſame crowne and regality in theſe caſes ſpecially, & in all other caſes which ſhall bee attempted againſt the ſame crowne & regality in al points with al their power. And moreouer it was demanded of the lords ſpirituall there being, & the procurators of other being abſent, their aduice and wil in al theſe caſes: which Lords, that is to ſay, the Arrhbiſhops, biſhops, and other prelats, being in the parliament ſeuerally examined, making proteſtations, that it is not their minde to deny or affirme that the biſhop of Rome may not excõmunicate Pope Biſhops, nor that hee may make tranſlation of Prelates, after the Law of holy Church, anſwered and ſaid, that if any executions of proceſſes made in ỹ kings court (as before) be made by any, & Cenſures of excommunicatiõ be made againſt any biſhop of England, or any other of the kings liege people, for that that they haue made execution of ſuch commaundements: And that if any executions

Purueiors takers, and the purueyors for his houshold, and that the Kings takers and purueyors of his house shall take nothing, but only for his houshold. And touching such things as they shall take in the countrey, of meate and drinke, and such other little things necessary for the houshold, they shall pay for the same, or make agreement with them of whom the things shall be taken. And that al such the kings takers, purueyors, or buyers from henceforth shall haue their warrant with them, vnder the kings great or petie seale, conteining their authoritie, and the things whereof they haue power to make taking or purueyance, the which warrant they shall shewe to them whose goods they take, before that they take any thing. And that those takers, purueyors, or buyers for the king, shall take no more then is needefull for the king his houshold and his children. And that they shal not take any thing for them that be at wages, nor for any other. And that they shall answere in the house or in the Wardrobe fully for all things taken by them, without making their larges any other where, or liueries of such things as they haue taken for the king. And if any taker for the kings house, by reason of his warrant, make any taking or liuery, otherwise then before is mentioned, vpon complaint made to the Stewarde, or to the Treasourer of the house, the trueth shall be inquired. And if hee be attainted thereof, he shall forthwith satisfie the partie, and shall bee put from the kings seruice for euer, and shall remaine in prison at the kings pleasure. And if any make takings without warrant, and carry them away against the will of the owner, he shall immediatly be arrested by the Towne where the taking was made, and shall be had vnto the next gaole, and if hee be attainted thereupon, it shall be done of him as of a theefe, if the quantitie of the goods will warrant it. And concerning takings made in faires, good townes, and in Hauens, for the kings great Wardrobe, the takers shall haue their common Warrant vnder the great Seale: And for the things that they shall take, it shall bee certified vnder the Seale of the keeper of the Wardrobe. And of the number of the things taken, the quantitie, and the value, there shall bee a dividend made betweene the takers, and the keepers of Faires, Maiors, or chiefe Baylifes of Townes and Hauens, by the viewe of the Marchants, whose goods shal be so taken: and they shall not bee suffered to take any more then shall be put into their dividend, which dividend shall bee brought into the Wardrobe, vnder the seale of the Warden, Maior, or chiefe Baylife aforesaid, and there shal remaine, vntil the account of ꝑ Wardrobe of the king. And if it be found, that any hath taken otherwise then he ought to doe, vpon his accompt he shalbe punished by the keepers of the kings wardrobe after his desert, and if any make such takings without warrant, and be attainted therupon, he shal incurre the same paine, as they which make takings for the kings house without warrant, as before is saide. Neuertheles the king and his Counsel do not intend by reason of this estatute to diminish the kings right for auncient takings due and accustomed, as of wines and other goods, but that his right shall be saued to him whole in all pointes. Marchants

2 ¶ For as much as merchants, which heretofore haue lent their goods to diuers persons, bee nowe fallen in pouerty, because there is no spedie remedie prouided, whereby they may shortly recouer their debt at the day of payment assessed: and for this mischeife many merchants are loth to come into the realme with their merchandise, to the great damage of such merchants, and of all the realme: The king and his Counsell, at his Parliament holden at Acton Burnell, after the feast of S. Michael the xi. yeere of his reigne hath ordeined these establishmets, therupon for the remedy of such merchants, which ordinances and establishments, the king commandeth that they shall be firmely kept and obserued throughout his Realme, whereby Marchantes may haue remedie and lesse trouble & businesse to recouer their debts then they haue had heretofore. But for as much as merchants afterwarde complayned vnto the king, that Shirifes misinterpreted his statutes, and sometime by malice and false interpretation, delayed the execution of the Statute, to the great dammage of marchants: The king at his Parliament holden at Westminster after Easter, the thirteeneth yeere of his raigne, caused the sayd statute made at Acton Burnell, to be rehearsed. And for the declaration of certaine articles in the Statute aforesayde, hath ordeined and established, that a Merchant for the assurance of his debt, shall cause his debtor to come before the Maior of London, or before some chiefe Warden of the Citie, or of an other good Towne, where the king shall appoint, and before the Maior chiefe Warden, or other sufficient men chosen and sworne thereto, when the Maior or chiefe Warden cannot attend thereto, and before one of the Clerkes that the king shal thereto assigne, when both cannot be attendant, hee shall knowledge the debt and the day of paiment, & the recognisance shall be enrolled by one of the Clerks hands being knowen, and the roll shall bee double, whereof one part shall remaine with the Maior or chiefe Warden, and the other with the Clerkes that thereto shall bee first named. And further one of the sayd Clerkes with his owne hand shall write an obligation, whereupon the seale of the debtor shall be put, with the kings seale prouided for the same intent, which seale shall be of two pieces, whereof the greater piece shall remaine with the Maior or the cheife Warden, and the other in the keeping of the foresayde Clerkes. And if the debtor doe not pay the debt, at the day limitted vnto him, then shall the marchant come before the Maiors and Clerke with his obligation, & if it be found by the roll or writing, that the debt was knowledged, and the day of payment erpired, the Maior or chiefe Warden shall cause the body of the debtor to be taken (if he be lay) whensoeuer hee happeneth to come in their power, and shall committe him to the prison of the Towne, if there bee any, and shall remaine there at their owne costes,

Execution

6 ¶ Whereas diuers persons within this Realme of England in times past, oftentimes haue bin taken and arrested by diuers shirifs and other officers of our soueraigne lord the king by writs, aswell going out of the Chancery of our soueraigne lord the King, as of his noble progenitours, for to haue execution of diuers recognisances made before the Maiors of the Staple of diuers summes, of which summes such persons, to whom the duety belonged, had no conuenient remedy, other then the said executions, which persons thereby taken and arrested for execution of the same recognisances, be often times come in by diuers writs de corpus cum causa, before the king in his Chancery out of prison, in the which they be so kept, because of such executions, and there they do sue, shewing forth diuers indentures and other things, in defesance of such recognisances, desiring writtes of Scire facias, to warne the party or parties, at whose sute they be taken and arrested, to answere vpon the same. And thereupon, by surety found to the king in his Chancerie, haue bene deliuered out of prison, notwithstanding their said arrest for the executions of such recognisances, as aboue is sayd, ne surety found to the recognisees, to whom they be so bound, to satisfie them of their dueties, in case that the matters compiled within the sayd writtes of Scire facias be not found nor adiudged for the recognisors thereby forme aforesayd, are not onely cleere contrary to the true meaning and intent of the same former estatutes, but also thereby diuers great & sundry inconueniences, daunmages and deceits do dayly rise and grow to diuers of the subiects of our said Souereigne lord the king, by reason of the misusing of the same. And forasmuch as ỹ kings highnesse of his most high wisdome, perceiueth the misusing & execution of the same to be contrary to the forme of the sayd former estatutes: Therefore his pleasure is, that some true, lawfull, & reasonable bond for surety of payment of the sayde debts of his subiects, shalbe made & deuised by true and iust meanes, which in it selfe may and shal purport right and equity, and also consonant to reason: In consideration whereof, by the assent &c. it is &c. that from the first day of April next comming, the chiefe Iustice of the Kings Bench, and the chiefe Iustice of the Common place, which now be, or at any time hereafter shalbe, and euery of them by himselfe, and in their absence out of the terme, the Maior of the staple at Westminster, and the Recorder of the city of London for the time being, ioyntly together by their discretion, shall haue full power and authority to take recognisances or knowledges of euery of the kings subiects for the payment of debts, according to such formes as hereafter ensueth.

IF any be disseised of their freeholds, and before the Justices in Eyre, haue recouered seisin by assise of nouell disseisin, or by confession of them which did the disseisin, and the disseisee hath had seisin deliuered by the Shirife, if the same disseisours after the circuit of the Justicers, or in the meane time haue disseised the same plaintife of the same freeholde, and thereof be conuict, they shall be foorthwith taken and kept in the Kings prison, vntill the King hath discharged them by fine, or by some other meane. And this is the forme how such conuict persons shall be punished: when the plaintifes come into the Court, they shall haue the Kings writ directed to the Shirife, in which must be conteined the plaint of disseisin done vpon disseisin. And then it shall be commanded to the Shiriffe, that he taking with him the keepers of plees of the Kings Crowne, and other lawfull Knights, in his proper person, shall go vnto the land or pasture, for which the plaint hath bene made: And that he make by the Iurours and other neighbours, and lawfull men diligent inquisition thereof. And if they finde him disseised againe (as before is sayd) then let him doe according to the prouision afore mentioned. And if it be found otherwise, the plaintife shall be amerced, and the other shall goe quite, neither shall the Shirife execute any such plaint without speciall commaundement of the king. In the same maner shall be done to them that haue recouered their seisin by assise of Mortdancestor. And so shall it be of all lands and tenements recouered in the kings Court by inquests, if they be disseised after by the first defore coours, against whom they haue recouered in any wise by enquest, Merton cap. 3. ¶ Repleuin of Cattell.

Beasts
Shirife
IF the beastes of any man bee taken, and wrongfully withholden, the Shirife after complaint made to him thereunto, may deliuer them without let or gainsaying of him that tooke the beastes, if they were Libertie taken out of liberties. And if the beastes were taken within any liberties, and the Bailifes bailifes of the liberty will not deliuer them, Shirifes then the Shirife for default of those bailifs shall cause them to bee deliuered. Marlebridge cap. 21.

Distreine
Seruice
2 ¶ Forasmuch as the Lords of fees distreining their tenants for seruices and customes due vnto them, are many times grieued, because their tenants do repleuie the distresse by writ or without writ: And when the Lordes at the complaint of their tenants, doe come by attachment into the countie, or vnto another court, hauing power to holde pleas of Withernam and doe a-Withernam uowe the taking good and lawfull: by rea-Auow son that the tenants disauowe and doe disclaime to holde ought of him (which tooke the distresse) and aduowed it, he that distreined is amerced, and the tenants goe quit to whome punishment can not bee assigned for such disauowing by record of the coun-Countie tie, or of other courtes hauing no record.
Courts It is prouided and ordeined from henceforth, that where such Lordes cannot obteine iustice in Counties, and such maner of courtes, against their tenants, assoone as they shall be attached at the sute of their tenants, a writ shall be granted to them, to remoue the matter before the Justicers, afore whome and none other where, iustice may be ministred to such Lords. And the cause shalbe put in the writte, because such a man Writ destreined in his fee for seruices & customes to him due. Neither is this act preiudiciall to the lawe commonly vsed, whereby it is prohibited, that no plea shall be mooued before Justicers at the sute of the defendant: For though it appeare at the first face that the tenant is plaintife, and the lord defendant: Neuertheless, hauing respect to that, that the lorde hath distreined and sueth for seruices and customes being behinde, he appeareth indeed to bee rather plaintife then defendant. And to the intent the Justices may knowe what fresh seisin the lords may Distresse aduow the distresse good and lawfull vpon their tenants: From henceforth it is agreed and enacted that a reasonable distresse may be aduowed vpon the seisin of any ancestor or predecessor, since the time that a writ of Nouel disseisin hath runne. And because it chanceth many times that the tenant after that he hath repleuied his beastes, doeth sel or alien them, whereby returne cannot bee made vnto the lord that distreined, if it bee adiudged:

It is prouided, that Shirifs or Bailifes Shirifes Bailifes from henceforth, shall not onely receiue of the plaintifes pledges for the sute, before Pledges they make deliuerance of the distresse, but also for the returne of the beasts, if returne bee awarded. And if any take pledges otherwise, bee shall answere for the price of the beastes, and the lorde that distreineth shall haue his recouerie by Writte, that hee Recouerie shall restore vnto him so many beastes or cattel. And if the Bailife be not able to restore, his lord shall restore. And forasmuch as it happeneth sometime, that after the returne of the beastes is awarded vnto the distreiner, and the partie so distreined, after that the beasts be returned, doeth repleuie them againe, and when he seeth the distreiner appearing in the Court ready to answere him, doth make default, whereby re- Default turne of the beastes ought to be awarded againe vnto the distreiner, and so the beastes bee repleuied twise or thrise, and infinitely, and the iudgements giuen in the Kings court take no effect in this case, whereupon no remedy hath bene yet prouided: In this case such processe shalbe awarded, that so soone as returne of the beastes shall be awarded to the distreiner, the shirife shall be Shirife commanded by a iudiciall writ to make re- Judiciall writ turne of the beastes vnto the distreiner, in which writ it shalbe expressed, that ỹ shirife shall shall not deliuer them without Writ, making mention of the iudgement giuen by the Iusticers, which cannot bee without a writ issuing out of the rolles of the said Iusticers, before whome the matter was mooued. Therefore when hee commeth vnto the Iusticers, and desireth repleuin of the beastes, hee shall haue a iudiciall writ, that the shirife taking suretie for the sute, and also of the beastes or cattell to be returned, or for the price of them (if returne bee awarded) shall deliuer vnto him the beastes or cattell before returned, and the distreiner shall bee attached to come at a certeine day before the Iusticers, afore whome the plea was mooued in the presence of the parties. And if hee that repleuied make default againe, or for another cause returne the distresse being nowe twise repleuied, the distresse shall remaine irrepleuiable, but if a distresse be taken of new, & for a new cause, the processe abouesaid shall be obserued in the same new distresse. West.2.cap.2.

IT is prouided also, that if a man lease his lands for terme of yeres within the citie of London, and hee to whom the freeholde belongeth, causeth himselfe to bee impleaded by collusion, and maketh default after default, or commeth into the court, & giueth it vp for to make the termer lose his terme, and the demaundant obteineth his sute, so that the termer may recouer by writ of couenant: The Maior and the Bailifs may inquire by a good Inquest in the presence of the termer and of the demaundant, whether the demandant mooued his plea vpon good right that hee had, or by collusion and fraud to make the termer lose his terme. And if it bee found by the Inquest that the demaundant mooued his plea vpon good right that he had, the iudgement shalbe giuen foorthwith. And if it bee found by Inquest that hee impleaded him by fraud to put the termer from his terme, then shal the termer inioy his terme and the execution of iudgement, for the demandant shall be suspended vntil the terme be expired. And in like maner it shalbe of equity before the Iusticers in such case, if the termer doe challenge it afore the iudgement giuen. Glocest.cap.11.An.6.Ed.1.

2 ¶ Where that any purchaseth a writ against the tenants by the curtesie, in taile, in dower, for terme of life, or of yeeres, and the demandant sueth so farre that the lands bee in maner recouered, whereupon another commeth in before iudgement giuen, and saith that he hath fee and right in those lands, and praieth the court, that in asmuch as he is come before iudgement, he may be receiued to defende his right, and to make answere vnto the demandant thereof by force of a certeine statute lately made by the king that nowe is at Westminster (S. W.2.cap.4. which is in Cui in vita 1.& 2.) whereby aswell such as had no right, as they oftentimes in the case afore mentioned, falsly and in deceit of the court, did come in and pray to be receiued to make answere to the intent that their admissiō might prolong the demandant from the atteining vnto iudgement, and seisin of his lande, and for to cause those demandants to replead of new, whereby such demandants are greatly deferred in the case aforesaid, for to recouer their right in the kings court, by reason of such malice, aswell by mistaking of the saide statute, as for any other cause iust and reasonable, and this is vsed and founde dayly before our Iustices: In consideration whereof our Souereigne lord the king, for to withstand all such malice in the foresaide case, and intending to prouide a remedie therein, in his full parliament hath ordeined, and from hencefoorth commandeth straightly to be obserued, that is to wit, the Munday next after the feast of the Purification of our Lady, the twentieth yeere of his reigne, that if any before iudgement in the foresaide case, commeth in by a collaterall title, and desireth to be receiued, before his receit he shall finde sufficient surety (as the court will award) to satisfie the demandant of the value of issues of the lands so to be recouered from the day that hee is receiued to make answere, vntill the time that finall iudgement be giuen vpon the petition of the demandant. And if the demaundant recouer his demand, the defender shall be grieuously amerced, if he haue whereof: and if he haue not, hee shall be imprisoned at the kings pleasure. And if he can proue his right to bee as good, as hee affirmed at such time as hee was receiued, he shall goe quit. Anno 20.Ed.1.

3 ¶ If any such tenant bee impleaded, and he in the reuersion come into the court, and prayeth to bee receiued to defende his right at the day that the tenant pleadeth to the Action or before, hee shall be receiued to plead in chiefe to the action, without taking taking any delay by voucher ayde, prayer, nonage, or any other delay, so that after such receit, he shall haue no maner delay by protection, essoine of the kings seruice, common essoin, or any other delay, but that the businesse be hasted, in as much as it may be by the lawe, and that dayes of grace bee giuen by the discretion of the Iudges, betweene the demaundant and him that is receiued in such case, without giuing the cõmon day in plea of lande, if the demandant will not assent, to the intent that the demandants be not too much delaied, because they must plead with two aduersaries, and in the right of pleas that be now depending in such case, they in the reuersion shalbe receiued in the maner as before is said, at the next day that the parties haue in Court, although the same parties haue pleaded in chiefe before this time. Prouided alwayes, that they in the reuersion, which pray to be receiued, as before is said, shall finde suretie of the issues of the tenements demanded for the time that the same demandants bee delayed after the saide plea determined betweene the demandants and tenants, if the iudgment passe for the demandant, against them in the reuersion aforesaide, aswell where the receit is counterpleaded, as where it is granted. ¶ Residence.

IT pleaseth our souereigne Lord the king that such clerkes as attend in his seruice shall be corrected by their Ordinaries like as other, but so long as they are occupied about his businesse they shall not bee bounden to keepe residence in their Churches. This is added of new by the kings Councill. The king and his ancestors since time out of minde haue vsed that clerkes during such time as they are in his seruice, shall not be compelled to keepe residence at their benefices. And such things as be thought necessary for the king & the Common wealth, ought not to be called preiudiciall to the liberties of the Church. Articuli cleri cap. 8. Anno 9. Ed. 2.

False returnes also sherifes make false Returnes as touching these articles Quod de exitibus, &c. returning sometime, and lying, that there bee no issues, sometime that there are small issues, when they may returne great, and sometime doe make mention of no issues: wherefore it is ordeined and agreed, that if the plaintife demaund of the Sheriffes returne, it shall bee graunted him. W. 2. cap. 39. An. 13. Ed. 1.

2 ¶ Because the punishment of trespasse for the desert of any person offending ought to be set, and many Shiriffes of the Shiriffe realme are altogether lay, hauing no knowledge ledge of returne of writs, which hitherunto haue bene returned into the kings Court, sometime are learned, yet hauing so great confidence ouer their clerkes doings, that of writs to them directed, to bee ouerseene and examined, they care not any thing to meddle themselues therewithall, and alwayes in time past, as well in the Exchequer, as elsewhere in the kings Courtes it hath bene vsed, that for writs executed vnduely, the shirifes to whom they were directed, haue bene amerced, & their clerks which haue returned & made false, fained, and friuolous answers to the same writs, nothing at all, whereby it is presumed, & thought to be true, those clerkes to haue take more audacitie of offending. The honorable fathers W. of Dothom, archbishop of Dublin, W. of Luda, of Ely, W. of Grauesend of London, W. of Langton of Couentry, and the bishop of Lichfield the kings treasorer, and John of Langton chancellor of England, John of Cobham, and his fellowes barons of the Exchequer aforesayd: Also the Justices of either bench, and other more of the kings counsell called together to the same Exchequer at Well, the thursday in ye feast of S. aboue mentioned, that then all and singuler persons so dammified, and hurt, shall recouer and haue dammages with the costes of their sute sustained in that behalfe trebled, against the offenders therein. And forasmuch as such euill disposed persons, which of late time made commotions and rebellion in certaine places within this Realme, being but few in number, at such time as they did begin the same commotion, were not in short time after the beginning thereof suppressed by strength, for that the louing Subiects at that time, for feare to incurre in danger of the lawes of this realme, durst not take vpon them so to doe, a great number of euil disposed persons did come, and ioyne themselues to the said smal number, whereby the same euill disposed persons tooke vpon them such boldnesse, that they would not bee reduced to obedience without much bloodshedding, to the great danger of the person of the prince, where if the saide subiects durst haue taken vpon them to haue suppressed them at the beginning, such inconuenience and bloodshedde should not haue followed.

Therefore it is enacted &c. that if any persons aboue the number of two, that at any time after the saide twentie day of December, shall bee vnlawfully, and of their owne authoritie assembled together, to the intent with force and armes to doe, practise or put in vre any of the things aboue mentioned, that then it shall bee lawfull to euery Justice of Peace, and to euery Shiriffe in any Countie being within the Queenes dominions, and to euery Maior, Bailiffe, and other head Officer of any Citie or towne corporate, for the time hee shall be in office, or any other person or persons, hauing the Queenes Commission, or letters from her Highnesse, as well to raise and assemble the Queenes louing subiects, in maner of war, to be arreared in such great number, as hee or they shall thinke meete or able, to the intent by violence & strength, to suppresse, apprehende and take the said persons that so shall be vnlawfully assembled: And that if the saide persons so vnlawfully assembled, after such commandement or request by Proclamation made, shall continue together, and not endeuour themselues to returne towardes their habitations, houses or places, from whence they came, in such short time as they may conueniently, that then it shall bee lawful to euery Justice of Peace, Shiriffe, and also euery Maior, Bailiffe, and other head Officer of any Citie or Towne corporate, and to euerie other person, hauing authoritie as is aforesaide, after such commandement or request by Proclamation made, and to such persons as shall bee assembled with any Justice of Peace, or Shiriffe, or with any Maior, Bailiffe, or other head Officer of ante Citie or Towne corporate, and with euery other person hauing authoritie, as is aforesaide, to suppresse, apprehend, and take those persons so vnlawfully assembled, which after such Proclamation made, shall continue together, and not endeuour themselues to returne towarde their habitations, or places from whence they came, and that if the saide persons so vnlawfully assembled together, or any of them shall fortune to bee killed, slaine, maymed, or hurt, in or about the suppressing or taking of them, that then euery such Justice of Peace, Shiriffe, Maior, Bayliffe, and other head Officer, and euery other person, hauing authoritie, as is aforesaide, and all and singuler persons by him or them assembled, shall bee free, discharged, and vnpunishable, as well against the Queene, as against all and euery other person and persons, of, for, or concerning the killing, slaying, mayming, and hurting of any person or persons, so vnlawfully assembled, that shall fortune to bee killed, slaine, maimed, or hurt, about or by occasion of suppressing or taking of them.

And furthermore be it &c. that all & euery copy holder, or customarie holder, being yeoman, artificer, husbandman, or labourer, and being of the age of xviii. yeres, or more, and vnder the age of threescore yeeres, not sicke, impotent, lame, maymed, ne hauing any other iust or reasonable excuse or cause to the contrary, and being required by the Shiriffe, Justice of Peace, or other hauing authoritie by this Acte, or by Commission, or letters, as is aboueSaide in that behalfe, they declaring their said authority, or being required by the immediate Lord or Lordes, of whome such copie holdes, or customarie holds then shalbe holde, to serue ye Queens Maiestie for any the causes aboue rehearsed, and refuse so to doe, shall onely during the life of such person or persons, so refusing, forfaite and lose to his or their Lorde or Lordes, of whome such copie, or customary holdes then shall bee immediatly holden and should bee holden, during the life of

2 ¶ Forasmuch as from day to day robberies, murders, and burning of houses, be more often vsed then they haue bene heretofore, and Felons cannot be attainted by the othe of Iurours, which had rather suffer felonies done to strangers to passe without paine, then to indict the offenders, of whome a great part be folke of the same Countrey, or at the least if the offenders be of another Country, the receiuers be of places neere. And they doe the same, because the othe is not now put vnto Jurors, nor vpon the countrey where such felonies were done, as to the restitution of dammages hitherto no paine hath bene limitted for their concealment and larthes: Our lord the King, for to abate the power of Felons, hath established a paine in this case, so that from henceforth, for feare of of the paine more then for feare of any othe, they shall not spare any, nor conceale any felonies. And commandeth that proclamation bee solemnely made in all Counties, Hundreds, Markets, Faires, and all other places, where great resort of people is, so that none shall excuse themselues by ignorance, that from henceforth euery Countrey be so well kept, that immediatly vpon robberies & felonies committed, such fresh suite be made from towne to towne, & from countrey to countrey. Likewise, when need require, that Inquests be made in townes by him that is Lord of the towne, and after in the hundred, & after in the franchise, and in the countie, and sometime in two, three, or foure counties, in case where felonies bee committed in the marches of shires, so that the trespassers may be attainted. And if the Countrey doe not answere for such maner of misdoers, the paine shalbe such, that the countrey, that is to wit, the people dwelling in the countrey shall answere for the robberies done, and also for the dammages, so that the whole hundred, where the robberie happeneth to bee done with the franchises, being within the precinct of the same hundred shall answere for the robberies done. And if the robberie chance to be done in the diuision of two Hundreds, in such case both Hundreds together with the Franchises, shall answere it. And after that the felonie or robberie is done, the Countrey shall haue no longer space then fortie dayes, within which it shall behoue them to agree for the robberie & trespasse, or else that they answere for the bodyes of the offenders. And forasmuch as the King will not that his people should be suddenly put in feare of this penaltie, that seemeth very hard to many, the King granteth that they shall not incurre it immediately, but it shall be respited vntill the Easter next following, and within that time the King shal see howe the Countrey will order themselues, and whether such felonies and robberies doe cease. After which terme let all be assured, that the foresaid penaltie shall run generally, that is to wit, that euery Countrey, that is to say, the people of the Countrey shall answere for the felonies and robberies done among them.

☞ 4 ¶ Whereas in the Statute made at Wincheſter, in the time of king Edward, grandfather to the king that now is (before 2,) it is contemned, that if any ſtranger paſſe by the countrey in the night, of whom any hath ſuſpition, he ſhalbe arreſted & deliuered to the ſhiriffe, and remaine in ward till hee be duely deliuered. And becauſe there hath bene diuers manſlaughters, felonies and robberies done in times paſt, by people that be called Roberdſmen, Waſters, & Dꝛawlatches: It is accoꝛded that if any man haue any euill ſuſpition of ſuch, bee it by day oꝛ by night, they ſhall bee incontinently arreſted by the conſtables of the townes. And if they be arreſted within franchiſes, they ſhalbe deliuered to the bailiffes of the franchiſe. And if in the guildable, they ſhall be deliuered to the ſhiriffes, and kept in pꝛiſon till the comming downe of the Juſtices of the gaole deliuerie, and in the meane time the ſhiriffes and bailiffes of the franchiſes ſhall cauſe enquirie to be made of ſuch perſons arreſted, and at the comming of the Juſtices, they ſhal returne their enqueſts befoꝛe them, and that that they haue found, & the cauſe of the takings with the bodies, and that the Juſtices ſhall pꝛoceed to the deliuerance of ſuch perſons arreſted after the law. 6 ¶ Whereas by two ancient statutes, the one made in the Parliament holden at Winchester, in the thirteenth yeere of the reigne of king Edward the first, and the other in the eight and twentieth yeere of the reigne of king Edward the third, it was for the better repressing of robberies and felonies (amongst other things) enacted to this effect, That if the country doe not answere for the bodies of such malefactours, that then the paine should be such, that is to wit, that the people dwelling in the countrey, shall be answerable for the robberies done, and the damages: so that the whole hundred where the robberie shall be done, with the franchises which are within the precinct of the same hundred, shall answere the robberies done. And if the robberie chance to be done in ỹ diuision of two hundreds, that then both the hundreds together, with the franchises within the precinct of them, shalbe answerable, as in the sayd two seuerall statutes it doth more at large appeare. Forasmuch as the sayde parts of the sayd seuerall statutes being of late dayes more commonly put in execution then heretofore they haue bin, are found by experience to be very hard and extreme to many of the Queenes Maiesties good subiects, because by the same statutes they doe remaine charged with the penalties therein conteined, notwithstanding their vnabilitie to satisfie the same, and though they doe as much as in reason might be required in pursuing such malefactors and offenders, whereby both large scope of negligence is giuen to the inhabitants and resiants in other hundreds and counties, not to prosecute the huy and cry made, followed and brought vnto them, by reason they are not chargeable for any portion of ỹ goods robbed, nor with any damages in that behalfe giuen, and also great incouragement and imboldening is likewise giuen vnto the offenders to commit dayly more felonies and robberies, as seeing it in maner impossible for the inhabitants and resiants of the said hundred and franchises wherein the robberie is committed, to apprehend them without the ayde of the other hundreds and Counties adioyning, and for that also that the partie robbed hauing remedy by the aforesayd statutes for the recouering of his goods robbed, and damages against the inhabitants and resiants of the hundred wherein the robberie was committed, is many times negligent and carelesse in prosecuting and pursuing the sayd malefactours and offenders: Our Soueraigne Lady the Queenes Maiestie, not willing therefore that her people should be impouerished by any such paine or penalty, which should be hard or grieuous to them, and haue speciall regarde to abate the power of felons, and to represse felonies, doeth for remedy hereof, with the consent of the Lordes Spirituall and Temporall, and of the Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same Parliament establish and enact, that the inhabitants and resiants of euery or any such hundred, (with the franchises Hundred within the precint thereof) wherein negligence, fault or defect of pursute, and fresh Fresh suite sute, after huy and cry made, shall happen Huy & cry to be, from and after forty dayes next after the end of this present Session of Parliament, shall answere and satisfie the one Spoiles moity or halfe of all and euery such summe and summes of money and dammages, as shall by force or vertue of the sayd statutes or either of them be recouered or had, against or of the said hundred, with the franchises therein, in which any robbery or felony shall at any time hereafter be committed or done. And that the same moitie shall and may be recouered by action of debt, bil, plaint or information in any of the queenes Maiesties Courts of Record at Westminster, by and in the name of the clearke of the peace for the time being, of or in euery such Countie within this Realme, where any such robbery and recouery by the partie or parties robbed shall bee, without naming the Christian name or surname of the sayd clearke of the Peace, which moitie so recouered, shall be to the onely vse and behoofe of the inhabitants of the said hundred where any such robbery or felony shall be committed or done. Clerke of the peace

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesayd, that if any clerke of the peace, of or in any Countie within this Realme, shall at any time hereafter commense or preferre any such sute, action, or information, and shall after the same so sued, commensed or preferred, happen to die, or to be remooued out of his office before recouerie and execution had: that yet no such action, sute, bill, plaint or information, sued, commensed, or preferred, shall by such displacing or death, be abated, discontinued or ended, but that it shall & may be lawful to and for the clearke of the peace next succeeding in the said countie, to prosecute, pursue and follow all and euery such action, bill, plaint, sute and information, for the causes aforesaid, so hanging and depending in such maner and forme, and to all intents and purposes, as that clearke of Peace might haue done which first commensed or preferred the said sute, bil, plaint, or information. And although the whole hundred where such robberies and felonies are committed with the liberties within the precinct thereof, are by the sayd two former statutes charged with the answering to the party robbed his damnages: yet neuertheless the recouery and execution, by and for the partie or parties robbed, is had against one, or a very few persons of the sayd inhabitants, and he and they so charged, haue not heretofore by lawe had any meane or way to haue any contribution, of or from the residue of the said hundred where the said robbery is committed, to the great impouerishment of them against whom such recouery or execution is had. Contribution

For remedie whereof, Be it enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that after execution of damages by the partie or parties so robbed had, it shall and may be lawfull (vpon complaint made by the partie or parties so charged) to & for two Iustices of the peace, (whereof one to be of the Quorum) of the same countie, inhabiting within the sayd hundred, or neere vnto the same where any such execution shall be had, to assesse, and taxe ratably and proportionably, according to their discretions, all & euery the townes, parishes, villages and hamlets, aswell of the sayd hundred where any such robberie shall be committed, as of the liberties within the said hundred, to & towards an equall contribution to be had and made for the releefe of the sayd inhabitant or inhabitants, against whome the partie or parties robbed before that time had his or their execution: And that after such taxation made, the constables, constable, headboroughs or headborough of euery such towne, parish, village and hamlet, shall by vertue of this present acte haue full power and authoritie within their seuerall limits, ratably and proportionably to taxe and assesse according to their abilities, euery inhabitant and dweller in euery such towne, parish, village and hamlet, for and towards the paiment of such taxation and assessement as shall be so made, vpon euery such towne, parish, village and hamlet as aforesaid, by y said Iustices: and that if any inhabitant of any such towne, parish, village or hamlet, shall obstinately refuse and deny to pay the said taxation and assessement, so by the sayde constables, constable, headboroughs or headborough taxed and assessed, that then it shall & may be lawfull to and for the said constables and headboroughs, and euery of them within their seuerall limits & iurisdictions, to distreine all and euery person and persons so refusing and denying by his and their goods and chattels, and the same distresse to sell, and the money thereof comming to reteine to the vse aforesaid. And if the goods and chattels so distrained and solde, shall be of more value then the said taxation shal come vnto, that then the residue of the sayde money ouer and aboue the sayde taxation shal be deliuered vnto the same person or persons so distrained. Iust. of P. Taxe Constables Headboroughs Taxe Refuse Distraine

And bee it further enacted, that all and euery the said constables & headboroughs, after that they haue within their seuerall limits and iurisdictions leuied and collected their sayde rates and summes of money so taxed, shall within ten dayes after such collection pay and deliuer the same ouer vnto the sayd Iustices of Peace, or one of them, Constables Headboroughs to the vse & behoofe of the saide inhabitant or inhabitants, for whom such rate, taxation and assessement shalbe had or made as aforesaid: which money so payd, shall by the Justices or Justice so receiuing the same, be deliuered ouer (vpon request made) vnto the sayde inhabitant or inhabitants, to whose vse the same was collected.

And be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesayd, that the like taxation, assessement, leuying by distresse and payment, as aforesaid, shall be had and done within euery hundred where default or negligence of pursute and fresh sute shal be, for and to the benefite of all and euery inhabitant and inhabitants of the same hundred, where such default shall be, that shall at any time hereafter by vertue of this present act, haue any damages or mony leuied of them, for or to the payment of the one moitie or halfe of the money recouered against the sayd hundred, where any robberie shall be hereafter committed. Hundreds Prouided also, and be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that where any robbery is, or shall be hereafter committed by two, or a greater number of malefactours, & that it happen any one of the sayd offenders to be apprehended by pursute to be made according to the said former mentioned lawes and statutes, or according to this present act, that then and in such case, no hundred or franchise shal in any wise incurre, or fall into the penaltie, losse or forfaiture mentioned either in this present act, or in the said former statutes, although the residue of the said malefactors shal happen to escape, and not to be apprehended: any thing in this statute, or in the saide former statute to the contrary notwithstanding. Robbery. Offender taken

Prouided also, that no person or persons hereafter robbed, shall take any benefite by vertue of any the sayd former Statutes, to charge any hundred where any such robberie shall be committed, except he or they so robbed, shall commence his or their suite or action within one yere next after such robberie so to be committed. One peere

And be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that no hue or cry, or pursuite hereafter to be done or made by the Countrey or inhabitants of any hundred, shall be allowed and taken to be a lawfull hue and cry, or pursuite, vpon or after any the saide felons or offenders, except the same hue and cry and pursuite be done and made by horsemen and footmen, any place or custome to the contrary notwithstanding. Horsemen and footmen

And be it further also enacted by the authoritie of this present Parliament, that no person or persons that shall hereafter happen to bee robbed, shall haue or maintaine any action, or take any benefit by vertue of the said two mentioned statutes, or either of them, except the said person and persons so robbed, shal with as much conuenient speed as may bee, giue notice and intelligence of the saide felonie or robbery so committed, vnto some of ỳ inhabitants of some towne, village, or hamlet neere vnto ỳ place where any such robbery shall bee committed, nor shall bring or haue any action, vpon or by vertue of any the statutes aforesaid, except hee or they shall first within twentie dayes next before such action to bee brought, bee examined vpon his or their corporal othe, to bee taken before some one Justice of the Peace of the Countie where the robbery was committed, inhabiting within the said hundred where the robbery was committed, or neere vnto the same, whether hee or they doe know the parties that committed the said robbery, or any of them. And if vpon such examination it be confessed that he or they doe know the parties that committed the saide robbery, or any of them, that then he or they so confessing, shall before the said action be commenced or brought, enter into sufficient bond by recognisance before the said Justice, before whom the said examination is had, effectually to prosecute the same person and persons so knowen to haue committed the said robbery, by indictment or otherwise, according to the due course of the Lawes of this Realme. ¶ Rome.

WHere the kings humble and obedient ſubiects, the clergie of this realme of England, haue not onely knowledged according to the trueth, that the conuocations of the ſame clergie, is, alwayes hath bene, and ought to be aſſembled onely by the kings writ, but alſo ſubmitting theſelues to the kings Maieſtie, hath promiſed In verbo ſacerdotij, that they will neuer from henceforth preſume to attempt, alleage, claime, or put in vre, or enact, promulge, or execute any new canons, conſtitutions, ordinances prouinciall or other, or by whatſoeuer other name they ſhall be called in the conuocation, vnleſſe the Kings moſt royall aſſent and licence may to them be had, to make, promulge, and execute the ſame, and that his Maieſtie doe giue his moſt royall aſſent and authoritie in that behalfe. And where diuers conſtitutions, ordinances and canons prouinciall or ſynodall, which heretofore hath bene enacted, and be thought not onely to be much preiudicial to the kings prerogatiue royall and repugnant to the lawes and ſtatutes of this realme, but alſo ouermuch onerous to his Highneſſe and his ſubiects, the ſaid clergie hath moſt humbly beſought the Kings Highneſſe, that the ſayd conſtitutions and canons may be committed to the examination and iudgement of his Highneſſe and of 32. perſons of the kings ſubiects, whereof 16. to bee of the vpper and nether houſe of the Parliament, of the temporaltie, and other ſixteene to bee of the Clergie of this Realme. And that all the ſaid 32. perſons to bee, cholen and appointed by the Kings maieſtie. And that ſuch of the ſayd conſtitutions and canons as ſhalbe thought and determined by the ſaid two and thirtie perſons, or the more part of them worthy to be abrogated and annulled, ſhall be abolished and made of no value accordingly. And ſuch other of the ſame conſtitutions and canons, as by the ſayd xxxii. or the more part of them ſhalbe approued to ſtand with the lawes of God, and conſonant to the lawes of this Realme, ſhall ſtand in their full ſtrength and power, the kings moſt royall aſſent firſt had and obteined to the ſame. Be it therefore now enacted by authoritie of this preſent Parliament, according to the ſayde ſubmiſſion and petition of the ſayd Clergie, that they nor any of them from henceforth ſhal preſume to attempt, alleage claime, or put in vre any conſtitutions or ordinances prouinciall, or ſynodals, or any other canons, nor ſhall enact, promulge, or execute any ſuch canons, conſtitutions, or ordinances prouincial, by whatſoeuer name or names they may be called in their conuocations in time comming, which alway ſhalbe aſſembled by authoritie of the kings writ: vnleſſe the ſame Clergie may haue the kings moſt royall aſſent and licence, to make, promulge, and execute ſuch canons, conſtitutions, and ordinances prouinciall or ſynodall, vpon paine of euery one of the ſayd clergie, doing contrary to this act, and being thereof conuict, to ſuffer impriſonment, and to make fine at the kings will. And foraſmuch as ſuch canons, conſtitutions, and ordinance as heretofore hath bene made by the clergie of this Realme, cannot now at the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, by reaſon of ſhortneſſe of time, bee viewed, examined, and determined, and 32. perſons to be choſen and appointed according to the petition of the ſayd clergie, in forme above rehearſed: Be it therefore enacted by authority aforeſaid, that the kings Highneſſe ſhall haue power and authoritie to nominate and aſſigne at his pleaſure the ſayd xxxii. perſons of his ſubiects, whereof ſixteene to be of the clergie, and ſixteene to be of the temporaltie, of the vpper and nether houſe of the Parliament. And if any of the ſaid xxxii. perſons ſo cholen, ſhall happ to die before their full determination, then his highneſſe to nominate other from time to time of the ſaid two houſes of the parliament to ſupply the number of the ſayde xxxii. 2 ¶ Where sithen the beginning of this present Parliament, for represse of the exaction of annates and first fruits of Archbishoprikes and bishoprikes of this Realme, wrongfully taken by the Bishop of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, and the See of Rome: It is ordeined and established by an act, amongst other things, that the payments of the annates or first fruites, and all maner contributions for the same, for any such Archbishoprike or Bishoprike, or for any buls to be obteined frō the see of Rome, to or for the said purpose or intent, should vtterly cease, and no such to be payed for any Archbishoprike or Bishoprike within this Realme otherwise then in the same act is expressed.

Buls

And that no maner of person or persons to be named, elected, presented, or postulated to any Archbishoprike or Bishoprike within this Realme, should pay the said annates or first fruites, nor any other maner of summe or summes of money, pensions, or annuities for the same, or for any other like exaction or cause, vpon paine to forfeit to our Souereigne lord the king, his heires and successors, al maner his goods and cattels for euer, and all the temporall landes and possessions of the saide Archbishoprike or Bishoprike, during the time that hee or they that should offend contrary to the said act, should haue, possesse and enioy the saide Archbishoprike or bishoprike.

Forf.

And it was further enacted, that if any person named or presented to the See of Rome, by the kings highnesse, or his heires or successors to be Bishop of any see or diocesse within this Realme, should happen to be letted, delayed, or deferred at the See of Rome, from any such Bishoprike whereunto he shall bee so presented, by meane of restreint of bulles of the sayde Bishop of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, and other things requisite for the same, or should be deemed at the See of Rome, vpon conuenient suite for any bulles requisite for any such cause: that then euery person so presented, might or should be consecrated here in England by the archbishop, in whose prouince the said bishoprike shall be: so alwayes that the same person should bee named and presented by the king for the time being, to the said archbishop. And if any person being named and presented as is afore said, to any archbishoprike of this Realme, making conuement suite as is aforesayde, should happen to bee letted, delayed, deferred, or otherwise disturbed from the sayde Archbishoprike, for lacke of pall, bull, or other things to him requisite to be obteined at the see of Rome, that then euery such person so named and presented to be Archbishop, might and should be consecrated and inuested after presentation made as is aforesaide, by any other two bishops within this Realme, whom the kings highnesse, or any his heires or successors, kings of England, would appoint & assigne for the same, according, and after like maner as diuers Archbishops and Bishops haue bene heretofore in ancient time, by sundry the kings most noble progenitors made, consecrated and inuested within this Realme.

Archbishop Consecrated

And it was further enacted by the sayd act, that euery Archbishop and bishop being named and presented by the kings highnes his heires and successours, Kings of England, and being cōsecrated and inuested as is aforesaid, shall bee installed accordingly, and should be accepted, taken and reputed, vsed and obeyed, as an archbishop or bishop of the dignitie, See or place whereunto hee shall be so named, presented and consecrated as other like prelats of the Prouince, See or diocesse haue bene vsed, accepted, taken and obeied, which haue had & obteined completely their buls and other things requisite

in that behalfe from the see of Rome, and also should fully and entirely haue and enioy all the Spiritualties and temporalties of the said Archbishoprike or bishoprike, in as large, ample, and beneficiall maner, as any of his or their predecessors had or enioyed in the said archbishoprike or bishoprike, satisfying and yeelding vnto the kings highnesse, and to his heires and successours, all such dueties, rights and inuests as before time hath bene accustomed to be payed for any such archbishoprike or bishoprike, according to the ancient lawes and customes of this realme, and the kings prerogatiue roial, as in the said acte amongst other things is more at large mentioned. And albeit the sayd bishop of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, hath bene enformed and certified of the effectual contents of the said acte, to the intent that by some gentle wayes the saide exactions might haue bene redressed and reformed: yet neuertheless the saide bishop of Rome hitherto, hath made none answere of his minde therin to the kings highnesse, nor deuised or required any reasonable wayes to and with our sayde Soueraigne lord for the same: wherefore his most excellent goodnesse, for the wealth and profite of this his Realme, and subiects of the same, hath not onely put his most gracious and royal assent to the foresaid act, but also hath ratified and confirmed the same, and euery clause and article therein conteined, as by his letters patents vnder his great seale enrolled in the parliament rol of this present parliament more at large is conteined. And forasmuch as in the said act it is not plainly and certainely expressed, in what maner and fashion archbishops and bishops shalbe elected, presented, inuested and consecrated within this Realme, and in all other the kings dominions: Be it now therefore enacted by the king our soueraigne lorde, by the assent of the lords spirituall and temporall, and the commons in this present parliament assembled, and by authoritie of the same, that the sayde acte, and euery thing therein conteined, shall bee and stande in strength, vertue, and effect, except only that no person or persons hereafter shalbe presented, nominated, or commended to ꝑ said bishop of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, or to the see of Rome, to or for the dignitie or office of any archbishop or bishop within this Realme, or in any other the kings dominions, nor shall sende nor procure therefore any maner of buls, brieues, palles, or other things requisite for an archbishop or bishop, nor shall pay any sums of money for annates, first fruits, or otherwise for expedition of any such buls, brieues, or palles, but that by the authoritie of this acte such presenting, nominating or commending to the sayd bishop of Rome, or to the See of Rome, and such buls, brieues, palles, annates, first fruites, and euery other summes of money heretofore limited, accustomed or vsed to be payd at the said see of Rome, for procuration or expedition of any such bulles, brieues, or palles, or other thing concerning the same, shall vtterly cease, and no longer be vsed within this Realme or within any the Kings dominions, any thing conteyned in the sayde Acte afore mentioned, or any vse, custome, or prescription to the contary thereof notwithstanding. First fruits

And furthermore be it ordeined and established by the authoritie aforesayde, that at euery ordinance of Archbishoprike or Bishoprike within this Realme, or in any other the Kings dominions, the King our soueraigne lorde, his heires and successors may graunt the Prior and Couent, or the Deane and chapter of the Cathedrall churches or monasteries, where the See of such Archbishoprike or Bishoprike shall happen to be voide, a licence vnder the great seale, as of olde time hath bene accustomed, to proceede to election of any Archbishop or Bishop of the see so being voyde with a letter missiue, conteining the name of the person which they shall elect and chuse: by vertue of which licence, the saide Deane and Chapter, or Prior & Couent, to whom any such licence and letters missiues shall be directed, shall with all speede and celeritie in due forme elect and chuse the sayde person named in the saide letters missiues to the dignitie and office of the Archbishoprike so being voyd, and none other. And if they doe, or deferre, or delay their election aboue twelue dayes next after such licence and letters missiues to them deliuered, that then for euery such default the kings highnesse, his heires and successours, at their libertie and pleasure, shall nominate and present by their Letters patentes vnder their great seale, such person to the sayde office and dignitie, so being voyde, as they shall thinke able and conuenient for the same. And that euery such nomination and presentment to be made by the kings Highnesse, his heires and successours, if it be

be to the office and dignitie of a Bishop, shalbe made to the Archbishop and Metropolitane of the prouince where the see of the same Bishoprike is voide, if the see of the Archbishop said Archbishop bee then full and not voide, and if it be voide, then to bee made to such Archbishop or Metropolitane within this Realme, or in any the Kings dominions, as shall please the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successors. And if any such nomination or presentment shall happen to bee made for default of such elections to the dignitie or office of any Archbishop, then the kings highnesse, his heires and succes- Letters sors, by his Letters patents vnder his great seale shall nominate and present such person as they will depose to haue the saide office and dignitie of the Archbishoprike being voide, to one such Archbishop, and two such Bishops, or else to foure such Bishops in this realme, or in any the kings dominions, as shalbe assigned by our said Soueraine Lorde, his heires or successours. And bee it enacted by the authoritie aforesaide, that whensoeuer any such presentment or nomination shall bee made by the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successours, by vertue and authoritie of this Acte, and according to the tenour of the same, that then euery Archbishop and Bishop, to whose hands any such presentment and nomination shall be directed, shall with all speed and celeritie, inuest, and consecrate the person Consecrate nominate & presented by the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successours, to the office and dignitie that such person shall bee so presented vnto, and giue and vse to him palle and all other benedictions, ceremonies and things requisite for the same, without suing, procuring, or obteining heereafter any bulles or other things at the see of Bulles Rome, for any such office or dignity in any behalfe. And if the saide Deane and Chap- Deane ter, or Prior and Couent, after such licence Prior and letters missiue to them directed within the saide twelue dayes, doe elect and chuse the saide person mentioned in the saide letters missiues, according to the request of the Kings Highnesse, his heires and successors, thereof to be made by the letters missiues in that behalfe: then their election shall stand good and effectuall to all intents, and that the person so elected after certification made of the same election vnder the common and couent Seale of the electours, to the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successours, shall bee reputed and taken by the name of lorde elected of the said dignitie and office, that he shall be elected vnto. And then making such othe Othe and fealtie onely to the kings maiestie, his Fealtie heires and successours, as shall bee appointed for the same, the kings highnesse by his letters patents vnder his great seale, shall signifie the saide election, if it be to the dignitie of a Bishop, to the Archbishop and Metropolitane of the Prouince where the see of the said Bishoprike was voyde, if the see of the said Archbishop bee full and not voyde, and if it bee voide, then to any other Archbishop within this Realme, or in any other the kings dominions, requiring and commaunding such Archbishop, to whome any such signification shall be made, to con- Confirme firme the saide election, and to inuest and consecrate the saide person so elected to the office and dignitie that hee is elected vnto, and to giue and vse to him all such benedictions, ceremonies and other things requisite for the same, without any suing, procuring and obteining any bulles, letters or other things from the see of Rome for the same in any behalfe. And if the person bee elected to the office and dignitie of an archbishop, according to the tenour of this acte, then after such election certified to ỳ kings highnesse in forme aforesaid, the same person so elected to the office and dignitie of an Archbishop, shall bee reputed and taken lorde elect to the saide office and digni- L. elect tie of Archbishop, whereunto hee shall be so elected. And then, after hee hath made such othe and fealtie onely to the Kings Othe maiestie, his heires and successours, as shall Fealtie bee limited for the same, the Kings Highnesse by his Letters Patents vnder his L. patents great seale, shall signifie the saide election to one Archbishop and two other Bishops, or else to foure bishops within this realme, or within any other the Kings dominions to bee assigned to the Kings highnesse, his heires or successours, requiring and commaunding the said Archbishop and bishops with all speede and celeritie to confirme the saide election, and to inuest and consecrate the saide person so elected to the office and dignitie that he is elected vnto, and to giue and vse to him such Pall, Benedictions, ceremonies, and all other things requisite for the same, without suing, procuring, or obteining any buls, briefs, or other things at the said sea of Rome, or by the authoritie thereof in any behalfe. And be it further enacted by authoritie aforesaide, that euery person perſon and perſons being hereafter choſen, elected, nominate, preſented, inueſted, and conſecrate, to the dignitie or office of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within this realme, or within any other the kings dominions, according to the forme, tenour and effect of this preſent act, and ſuing their temporalities out of the Kings hands, his heires or ſucceſſors, as hath bene accuſtomed, and making a corporal othe to the kings Highneſſe, and to none other, in forme as is afore rehearſed, ſhall and may from henceforth be thronised or installed as the caſe ſhall require, and haue and take their onely reſtitution out of the kings hands, of all the poſſeſſions and profits ſpirituall and temporal belonging to the ſaide Archbiſhoprike or Biſhoprike, whereunto they ſhall be ſo elected or preſented, and ſhalbe obeyed in all maner of things, according to the name, title, degree and dignitie, that they ſhalbe ſo choſen or preſented vnto, and do, and execute in euery thing and things touching the ſame, as any Archbiſhop, or Biſhop of this realme, without offending of the prerogatiue royal of the crowne, and the lawes and cuſtomes of this Realme mought at any time heretofore doe.

Pytour Deane

And be it further enacted by the authoritie aforeſaid, that if the Prior and couent of any monaſterie, or Deane and Chapiter of any Cathedrall Church where the ſea of any Archbiſhop or biſhop is, within any the kings dominions, after ſuch licence as is afore rehearſed ſhall be deliuered to them, proceed not to election, and ſignifie the ſame according to the tenour of this act, within the ſpace of twentie dayes next after ſuch licence ſhall come to their hands, or elſe, if any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within any the kings dominions, after any ſuch election, nomination or preſentation ſhall be ſignified vnto them by the kings letters patents, ſhall refuſe, and do not confirme, inueſt and conſecrate with all due circumſtance as is afore ſaide, euery ſuch perſon as ſhall be ſo elected, nominate or preſented, and to them ſignified, as is aboue mentioned, within twentie dayes next after the kings letters patents, or ſuch ſignification or preſentation ſhall come to their hands, or elſe if any of them, or any other perſon or perſons admit, maintaine, allowe, obey, doe, or execute any cenſures, excommunication, interdictions, inhibitions or any other procelle or Acte, of what nature, name or qualitie ſoeuer it be, to the contrary or let of due execution of this Acte, that then euery prior and particuler perſon of his Couent, and euery Deane and particuler perſon of the Chapter, and euery Archbiſhop and Biſhop and all other perſons ſo offending and doing contrary to this act or any part therof, and their aiders, counſellers and abetters, ſhall runne in the dangers, paines and penalties of the eſtatute of the prouiſion and Premunire made in the xvi. yeere of the reigne of king Edward the third, and in the ſixteene yeere of king Richard the 2. Bee it also enacted by this Parliament & authoritie of the same, that the taxe or summe appointed to be paid for euery such dispensation, licence, faculty, instrument, rescript, or other writing, to be graunted by authoritie of this acte, shall be imployed and ordered, as hereafter ensueth, that is to say: If the taxe extend to foure li. or aboue, by reason whereof the dispensation, licence, facultie, rescript or writing, which shall passe by the said archbishops seale, must be confirmed by thappẽsion of the great seale, then the said taxe so extending to foure pound or aboue, shall be diuided into three parts, whereof two shall be receiued by ẏ said clerke of the chancery, to be appointed as is aforesaid, to the vse of your highnes, your heires & successors, and to the vse of the lord Chancellor or the Keeper of the great seale for the time being, & to the vse of the said Clerke, in such wise as hereafter shalbe declared, and that the third part shalbe taken by ẏ said clerke of ẏ archbishop, to the vse of the said archbishop & his commissarie, and his said clerke & register, in such wise as hereafter shalbe ordered and limitted by this act, that is to say: The said two parts shalbe deuided in foure parts, of which three parts shalbe taken to the onely vse of your highnes, your heires & successors, and the fourth part shall be deuided in three parts, wherof the chancellor of England, or lord keeper of the great seale for the time being, shall haue two parts, & the said clerke of the chancerie the third part of his paines, trauaile & labours, that he is limited to write & do by vertue of this act. And the said third part of the whole taxe appointed to the said archbishop & his officers (as is aforesaid) shalbe diuided into three parts, whereof the Archbishop shal haue to his vse two parts, & his officers shal haue the third part thereof, of which third part to be deuided into two parts, the said clerke or register which shall find parchment, waxe, and silke, and shall deuise and write the said dispensations, licences, faculties, rescripts, or other writings, and register the same, shall haue for his said labour, & for receiuing and repaying of the summes of mony, that shal come to his hands for dispensations, faculties, licences, and other rescripts aforesaid, the one moitie thereof, & the commissary of the said archbishop appointed to seale ẏ said dispensations, faculties, licences, and other rescripts shall haue the other part. And if the taxe be vnder foure pound, & not vnder xl.s. then the said taxe shall be deuided into three partes, as is aforesaide, whereof the kings highnes, his heires & successors shall haue two parts thereof, abating iii.s.iiii.d. which shalbe to the said clerke of the chancerie for subscribing, entituling, and enrolling the said dispensations, licences, faculties, rescriptes & other writings aforesaid, and receiuing of the kings money so taxed: And the Archbishop and his officers shall haue the third part, which third part shalbe deuided into two parts, wherof the archbishop shall haue the one entirely to himselfe, his scribe and commissarie shall haue the other part thereof, equally to be deuided amongst thẽ, for their costs & paines in that behalfe. And if the taxe be vnder fortie shillings, and not vnder sixe and twentie shillings eight pence, the same taxe shalbe deuided into two partes, whereof the one part shalbe to your Grace, your heires and successors, deducting thereof ii.s. for the clerk of the chancerie for his paines, as is aforesaid: And the other part shalbe to the said Archbishop & his officers, which other part shalbe deuided into two parts, whereof the Archbishop shall haue the one, and his commissarie and scribe shall haue the other part equally diuided among thẽ. And if the taxe be vnder xxvi.s.viii.d. & not vnder xx.s. the same shalbe deuided into two parts, whereof your Grace, your heires and successors, shal haue the one part entirely, abating two shillings thereof to the saide clerke of the chancery, and the Archbishop & his officers shal haue the other part, and the same other part shalbe deuided into three parts, wherof the Archbishop shal haue one, his commissary the second, & his scribe or register the third. And in case the taxe be vnder twentie shillings, the same shall be receiued to the vse of the said Commissarie, Clerke of the said Archbishop, and Clerke of the Chauncery, to be equally deuided amongst them, for their paines and labours by them to bee sustained by authority of this act, as is afore saide. Prouided alwayes, that this acte shall not be preiudiciall to the Archbishop of Yorke, or to any bishop or prelate of this realme, but that they may lawfully (notwithstanding this act) dispense in al cases, in which they were wont to dispense by the common lawe, or custome of this Realme afore the making of this acte. also and bee it enacted by authoritie aforesaid, that if it happen the sea of the arch-bishoppicke of Canterburie to bevoyde, that then all such maner licences, dispensations, faculties, instruments, rescripts, and other writings, which may be granted by vertue and authoritie of this act, shall (during the vacation of the same sea) be had, done, and graunted vnder the name and seale of the gardian of the spiritualties of the said archbishoppick for the time being, according to the tenour and forme of this acte, and shall be of like force, value, and effect, as if they had bene granted vnder the name and seale of the Archbishop for the time being.

And be it further enacted, that if ꝑ aforesaid archbishop of Canterburie for the time being, or ꝑ said gardian of the spiritualties for the time being, hereafter refuse or denie to grant any licences, dispensations, faculties, instruments, or other writings, which they be authorised to doe by vertue and au-thoritie of this act, in such maner and forme as is afore remembred, to any person or persons, that ought of a good, iust, & reasonable cause to haue the same, by reason whereof this present act by their wilfulnesse, negligence, or default, should take none effect, then the chancellor of England, or the Lord keeper of the great seale for the time being, vpon any complaint thereof made, shall direct the Kings writ to the said Archbishop or gardian, denying, or refusing to graunt such licences, dispensations, faculties, or other writings, enioyning him by the sayde writ, vpon a certaine paine therein to bee limitted by the discretion of the said Chancellor, or Keeper of the great seale, that hee shall in due forme graunt such licence, dispensation, facultie, or other writing, according to the request of the procurours of the same, or else signifie vnto your highnesse, your heires or successours, in the Court of Chancerie, at a certaine day, for what occasion or cause hee refused and denied to graunt such licences, faculties, or dispensations. And if it shall appeare to the sayde Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great seale, vpon such certificate, that the cause of refusal or denial of granting such licences, facultie, or dispensation, was reasonable, iust, & good, ꝑthen so being prooued by such search & examination of the said chancellor, or
L. Keeper of the great seale, to be admitted & allowed. And if it shal appeare vpō ꝑ said certificate, ꝑ the said archbishop or gardian of the spiritualties for ꝑ time being, of wilfulnes in contēning ꝑ due execution of this act, without a iust & reasonable cause, refused or denied to grant such licence, facultie, or dispensation, ꝑ then your Highnes, your heires & successors, being thereof informed, after due examination had, that such licences, faculties, or dispēsations, may be granted without offending the holy scriptures, and lawes of God, shall haue power & au-thoritie in euery such case for the default, negligence & wilfulnes of the said Archbishop or gardian, to send your writ of In-iunction, vnder your great seale, out of your said court of Chancerie, commāding the Archbishop or gardian, that so shal deny or refuse to graunt such licence, facultie, or dispensation, to make sufficient grant ther-of, according to the tenour and effect of this acte, by a certaine day, & vnder a certaine paine in the said writ to be conteined, and to be limitted by your highnes, your heires, & successours, Kings of this Realme. And if the said Archbishop or gardian, after the receipt of the said writ, refuse or deny to grant such licences, faculties, or dispensations, as shall be enioyned him by vertue of the said writ. and shew & prooue before your maie-stie, your heires, or successors, no iust or reasonable cause why they should so doe, then the said Archbishop or gardian, that so shall refuse to put this act in executiō, according to ꝑ said writ of Iniunction, shal suffer, lose and forfait to your highnes, your heires and successors, such paine & penalty as shalbe limitted and expressed in the said writ of In-iunction. And ouer that it shalbe lawfull to your highnes, your heires and successours, for euery such default and wilfulnes of the said archbishop or gardian, for the time being, to giue power & authority by commission vnder your great seale, to such two spirituall prelates or persons, to be named by your highnes, your heires & successors, as will do and graunt such licences, faculties, and dispensations, refused or denied to bee granted by the saide archbishop or gardian, in contempt of this acte. And bee it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that the saide two spiritual prelats or persons, to whō in such cases, any such Commission shalbe directed, shall haue power and authoritie to graut euery such licence, facultie, dispensation, instrument, & other writings so refused to be granted by the said Archbishop or gar-

And that euery such licence, facultie, and dispensation so granted for any causes or matters, whereunto any cõfirmation vnder ỳ kings great seale is appointed by this acte, to be had in maner & forme aboue declared, shall be had & obteined accordingly. And such licences & confirmations shal be had for like fees and charges, as they are aboue specified, & not aboue, vnder ỳ pains aboue mentioned, & that euery such licence, facultie, dispensation, and other writing to be granted by the said Prelates, or persons to be assigned by the Kings highnesse, his heires and successors, as is afore said, shalbe of as good value, strength, and effect, and as beneficiall and profitable to the persons procuring the same, as if they had bene made, granted, & obteined vnder the name and seale of the said Archbishop. Prouided alwaies ỳ this act, nor any thing or things therein conteined, shalbe hereafter interpreted or expounded, that your Grace, your nobles, and subiects, intend by the same to decline or varie from the congregation of Christes Church, in any thing concerning the very articles of the Catholike faith of Christendome, or in any other thinges declared by holy Scripture, and the word of God, necessarie for your & their saluations, but only to make an ordinance by policies necessary & conuenient to represse vice, and for good cõseruatiõ of this realm in peace, vnity, & tranquilitie, frõ ruine & spoile, ensuing much ỳ old ancient customes of this realme in ỳ behalfe: Not minding to seeke for any reliefes, succors, or remedies for any worldly things & humane lawes in any cause of necessitie, with in this Realme, at the hands of your highnesse, & your heires and successors, Kings of this realm, which haue and ought to haue an imperiall power and authoritie in the same, and not obliged in any worldly causes to any other superiour.

Prouided alway, that the said Archbishop of Canterburie, or any other person or persons, shall haue no power or authoritie by reasõ of this act, to visite or vere any monasteries, abbeies, priories, colledges, hospitals, houses, or other places religious, which be or were exempt before ỳ making of this act, any thing in this act to the contrary thereof notwithstanding, but ỳ repression, visitation, & confirmation shalbe had by the kings highnes, his heires and successors by commission vnder the great seale, to be directed to such persons, as shalbe appointed requisite for the same, in such monasteries, colledges, hospitals, priories, houses and places religious, exempt: So that no visitation nor confirmation shall from henceforth be had or made, in or at any such monasteries, colledges, hospitals, priories, houses & places religious, exempt, by the said Bishop of Rome, or by any of his authoritie, nor by any out of the kings dominions. Nor ỳ any person religious, or other resiant in any the Kings dominions, shall from henceforth depart out of the Kings dominions, to or for any visitation, congregation, or assembly for religion, but that al such visitations, congregations, and assemblies shalbe within the Kings dominions.

Prouided also, that this present act or any thing therein conteined, or any licence or dispẽsation hereafter to be made by vertue & authoritie thereof, shall not extend to the repeale or derogation of the late acte, made sith the beginning of this present Parliament, for reformation of pluralities of benefices, and for non residence, of spirituall persons vpon their dignities or benefices, nor to any things conteined or mentioned in the said acte. Nor that this acte, nor any thing to be done by authoritie thereof shall not be taken, expounded, nor interpreted, to giue licence to any person or persons, to haue any more number of benefices, then is limited in the said acte. And that the same acte for pluralities, and non residents of benefices, and euery thing therein conteined, shall stand good & effectuall to all intents, according to the true meaning thereof, any thing in this present acte, or any licence or dispensation to be had by authoritie thereof, in any wise notwithstanding.

And bee it further enacted by authoritie aforesaid, that if any person or persons, subiect or resiant within this Realme, or within any the Kings dominions, at any time hereafter sue to the court of Rome, or the sea of Rome, or to any person claiming to haue his authoritie by the same, for any licence, facultie, or dispensation, or other thing or things contrary to this act, or put in execution any licence, facultie, or dispensation, or any other thing or things hereafter to be obtained from Rome, or the sea of Rome, or from any clayming authoritie by the same, for any of the causes aboue mentioned in this acte, or for any other causes, that may bee granted by authoritie of this act, or attẽpt or do any thing or things contrary to this act, or maintaine, allow, admit of censures, excommunications, interdictions, or any other proces frō Rome, of what name or nature so euer it be, to the derogation or let of the execution of this Acte or of any thing or things to be done by reason of the said acte, that then euery such person or persons so doing, offending, & being thereof conuict, their aidours, counsellours, and abbettors, shall incurre and runne into the paine, losse and penaltie comprised & specified in ỹ acte of prouision & premunire, made in the xvi. yere of your most noble progenitor K. Rich. the 2. against such as sue to the court of Rome against your crown and dignitie royal. Prouided alway, that this act, or any thing therein conteined, shall not hereafter be taken or expounded to ỹ derogation or taking away of any grants, or confirmation of any liberties, priuiledges, or iurisdiction of any monasteries, abbies, priories, or other houses or places exempt, which heretofore before the making of this act hath bin obteined at the sea of Rome, or by authoritie thereof, but that euery such graunt and confirmation shall bee of the same value, force and effect, as they were afore the making of this acte, and as if this acte had neuer beene made. Prouided alwayes, that the abbots, priors, and other chiefe rulers and gouernors of such monasteries, abbeies, and other houses and places exempt, shall not hereafter pay any pension, portion, or other cense to the sea of Rome, nor admit or accept any visitation, nor any confirmation from or by ỹ said sea of Rome, or by authoritie therof, of or for any person to be elect, named or presented, to be heads of any such monasteries, abbies, priories, places or houses exempt, nor shal make any corporal othe to the Bp. shop of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, vpon the paine limmitted in this acte: But that euery such visitation and confirmation of such heads elect in any such monasteries, abbies, priories, houses or places exempt, where after their election they were bounden to haue and obtaine any confirmatiō of their election, or of the person named, presented or elect, shall be from henceforth had, made, and done within this realm, at & within euery such abbeies, monasteries, priories, and other houses and places exempt by such person & persons, as shall be appointed by authoritie of ỹ kings commission from time to time, as ỹ case shall require, & not by the sea of Rome, nor by authoritie thereof, any thing in this prouiso next aboue specified to the contrary thereof notwithstanding.

Prouided alwayes, that in such monasteries, abbeies, priories, and houses exempt, where after election, presentation, or nomination of their heads, no such confirmation is requisite to be had, nor hath beene vsed to be take, by reasō of such priuiledges as they haue concerning the same, that in euery such monasteries, abbies, priories, and places exempt they shall not be bounden to obteine, haue or take any confirmation for the same within this realm, by authoritie of this act, but vse their priuiledges therein as they haue done before ỹ making of this act, any thing in this act or any the prouisoes next aboue rehearsed to the contrarie thereof notwithstanding. Prouided also and be it enacted, that this acte or any thing or things, word or words herein, or in the preamble therof mentioned or conteined, is not intended or meant, or shall bee expounded nor interpreted, that any dispensations, licences, or confirmations for mariages graunted to any the kings subiectes borne vnder his obeysance, at any time before the twelft day of March, in the yeere of our Lorde God a thousand fiue hundred thirtie three, shall bee appaired, or of any lesse value, strength, force or effect, then they were at the saide twelft day of March, nor that this act, or any thing therein contained, shall not extend to the derogation, appayring, or adnullation of any licences, dispensations, confirmations, faculties or indulgences, at any time before the said xxi. day of March, in ỹ yere of our Lorde God. M. D. xxxiii. had or obteined at ỹ sea of Rome, or by authoritie thereof, to or for any subiects borne in this Realme, or in any the kings dominions, or to or for the Hospitall of the priory of S. Johns Jerusalem in England, and commandries or members thereof, or to any other cathedrall church, hospital, monasterie, abbey, priorie, colledg, church conuentual, parochial churches, chappel, fraternity, brotherhead, or body politike, or to their predecessors or ancestors within this realme or in any other the kings dominions, shall be of the same force, strength, value and effect, and may be from time to time put in execution at al times hereafter, by and to them that will vse, and haue the same as they mought haue bin, before the making of this act, and as if this act had neuer bene had ne made, any thing in the said act to the contrarie heereof notwithstanding. Prouided alwaies, that such licences, dispensations, confirmations of faculties, heretofore obteined at the sea of Rome, or by authoritie thereof, contrary to ỹ expres prouisions of the lawes and statutes of this realme heretofore made, shall not at any time heereafter bee vsed, or put in due execution in any case to the derogation, or contrarie to the said lawes & Statutes of this Realme and the prouisions of the same, any thing in this prouiso to the contrarie thereof notwithstanding. And bee it enacted by authority of this present parliament, that the king our soueraigne lord, by the aduice of his honourable Counsell, shall haue power & authoritie from time to time for the ordering, redresse, and reformation of all maner of indulgences and priuiledges thereof within this realme, or within any the kings dominions heretofore obteined at the sea of Rome, or by authoritie therof, & of ỹ abuses of such indulgences & priuiledges therof as shal seeme good, wholesome, & reasonable for the honour of God, and weale of this people. And that such order and redresse as shall be taken by his highnesse in that behalfe, shall be obserued and firmely kept vpon the paines limitted in this act for the offending of the contents of the same. 4 ¶ Forasmuch as great care hath bene heretofore taken for the maintenance of good strength and force vpon the borders and frontiers against Scotland, and to the ende that inhabitants and tenants there might be better able, and more encouraged for the defence of the same borders, when any occasion should bee offered in that behalfe, all charges of Subsidies and taxes haue bene borne, to be laid or charged vpon the said inhabitants, and for like respect it hath bene heretofore also vsed in diuers places within the Counties of Northhumberland, Cumberland, Westmerlande, and the Bishopricke of Durham, that diuers, and a great parte of the inhabitants there, haue enioyed their tenements and Fermeholdes in diuers fauourable sortes and formes of tenure. And for that the Queenes Maiestie hath of late yeres beene oftentimes informed by report and certificate of her principall Officers hauing charge of her borders, that the force of her sayde borders both of horsemen and footemen are greatly decayed, and likely dayly to growe weaker by many occasions, and among other by decay and ruine of sundrie the habitations of those borders, whereby the number of the auncient Inhabitants able for seruice, haue beene diminished, and that part of the same Habitations, Tenancies and Fermes, haue bene reduced rather to pasturing of cattell, then to the maintenance of men of seruice: And that also in some partes the Tenantes and Inhabitantes themselues haue diminished their owne strength, by deuiding their houses and Fermes, which were meete onely for one able house holder and familie, into the occupation of sundrie persons commonly being their children or other kinsfolkes. So as by the smalnes and meanenes of the holding, no one of them is able to furnish a man for seruice: And that also diuers owners and Tenants vpon the borders, haue for more gaine then they could haue of naturall subiectes, letten their landes or feedings, or some parte thereof to Scottishmen, thereby not onely weakening the strength of her Maiesties naturall subiects, but strengthening forrainers.

For remedie whereof, bee it enacted by the authoritie of this present Parliament, that the Queenes Maiestie shall and may from time to time, as neede shall require, by Commission vnder the great Seale of Englande, make and appoint such and so many Commissioners as to her Maiestie shall bee thought conuenient, giuing vnto them or sixe of them (whereof two to bee of the Quorum) full power and authoritie in all and euery of the saide Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmerland, and the Countie Palantine of Durham, or in any one of them, or in any parte of any of them, to enquire by the othes of twelue men or moe, or by other good meanes, according to their discretions, what tenancies and houses of habitations be since the seuen and twentieth yeere of King Henrie the eight ruined and decayed, and not helde or occupied by men able to serue as horsemen and footemen, according to the auncient dutie of those tenancies, and in like maner to examine and search out the iust or probable causes of those ruines and decayes, and of the wants and euill furnitures of the saide horsemen and footemen, and to giue order and direction for reformation thereof with all speede reasonable. And to that ende, if it shall appeare to the saide Commissioners or such sixe of them, as is aforesaide, that the fault of the saide ruines or decayes hath bene onely in the Lordes and owners, or their principall officers, or in the officers and Farmers of her Maiesties Manours, Landes or Tenementes, or any their assignes, then the saide Commissioners, or such sixe as is aforesaide, shall order, commaunde and enioyne as well her Maiesties Officers, Farmers, or their assignes, as others the Lordes and owners, and their Officers or Farmers, to redifie or repayre the same tenements and houses of habitation, and specially the capitall houses and Barnekins within a conuenient time at their owne charges, with restoring like quantities of landes thereunto, as with the same hath bene occupied in the said twentie seuenth yeere of king Henry the eight, And shall set paines for euery default of such redifying or restoring in reasonable time, not exceeding one hundreth Markes for euery such default: And if they shall finde default of furniture of the Tenantes with horse, weapon or armour, according to their duties, then they shall by perswasion in respect of the Queenes Maiesties seruice, and the defence of their native countrey, treat with such Lordes and other whome it may concerne, and the Freeholders, Lessees or Tenants, for order to bee taken by their mutuall assents for the renewing and continuance of the said seruice, and for want of reasonable conformitie on either part, may enioyne the saide Lordes and all others vnder them, and also all the Queenes Maiesties Officers, Farmers, and their assignes, to giue such helpe as the saide Commissioners or such sixe as aforesayde shall thinke fit, towarde the inabling of the sayde Tenant or Tenants, to bee furnished according to the auncient duetie of ꝑ said Tenement, and to take order how the said Tenant shall thereby be furnished and be able for seruice, and to see that the same bee duely executed, and the sayde Commissioner shall take bondes in good summes to her maiesties vse, of euery such person of whom it shall bee requisite that the sayd ancient duetie of such Tenementes respectiuely shall bee furnished, kept and executed, on paine of reasonable forfeiture, not exceeding fourtie poundes for euery default, and shall assesse fines, and set downe paines for such defaultes or wantes of furniture, as shall in that behalfe bee requisite. And if the vnablenes of the sayde Tenants shall bee founde to haue growen, or to growe hereafter by their owne default or wilfulnesse, without iust occasion: the sayd Commissioners millioners or ſuch ſixe of them, as is afore-ſayde, ſhall order, enioyne and direct the ſaid Tenants within ſome reaſonable ſpeedy time, to furniſh themſelues with horſe, armour, and weapon, or with armour and weapon according to their ancient vſage, and their vttermoſt reaſonable habilitie, at their owne charges without any contribution of the Lordes, but at their owne good wils, vpon paine to be expelled by the Lord, owner or ſuperiour Farmers or their aſſignes, which ſo expelling, ſhall place in ſuch holding or Farme another tenant, that ſhall bee furniſhed and readie for ſuch ſeruice as is aforeſayd, or elſe ſhall within one moneth giue notice to the Commiſſioners, or to the Warden of the ſame Marches, of his not placing of ſuch Tenant, vpon ſuch payne as the Commiſſioners, or ſuch ſixe of them, as is afore ſayde, ſhall aſſeſſe, not exceeding one hundreth Markes, and the ſayd Commiſſioners or Warden after ſuch notice giuen, ſhall place one other Tenant ſufficient for the ſeruices aforeſayd, and in her Maieſties landes by the officers of her reuenue, within ſome time to bee limited. And the ſayde Landlordes, owners, ſuperiour Farmes, or their aſſignes, and alſo her Maieſties officers to bee alſo enioyned and bounde vpon ſome paine, to cauſe the ſame to bee executed, and that a newe Tenant ſhall bee placed, ſufficiently furniſhed to holde the ſame. And further where it ſhall appeare, that within the ſpace of thirtie yeeres any Tenement or habitation of houſhold, which haue maintained any horſemen or footemen, by ancient vſage for ſeruice towarde the frontires, haue beene by the Tenantes and owners themſelues, or by any other meanes diuided into ſundrie habitations, or the Landes thereunto belonging, diſtributed to other Tenantes, whereby any one principall Tenament ſo deuided, or the ſame Tenement with the lande therewith nowe occupied, ſhall not be able to maintaine the Inhabitant thereof to bee furniſhed according to the ancient duetie of ſeruice: That in ſuch caſe the ſayde Commiſſioners or ſuch ſixe of them, as is afore ſayde, ſhall take order, that for the preſent time, the perſons which ſhall haue the vſe and profite of any part of the ſame Tenements, or of the ſayde landes ſo withdrawen from the ſayde principall Tenement, during the time of their preſent termes, ſhall yeerely contribute to the principall Tenant there reſiding, to be readdy and furniſhed for the ſayde ſeruice, ſome reaſonable yeerely ayde by money or otherwiſe, towardes his furniture meete for ſeruice.

Prouided alwayes, that where they ſayd Commiſſioners, or ſuch ſixe as aforeſayde ſhall finde, that meane or vndertenants, hauing particular eſtates ouer the terretenant (other then the Lordes and owners) haue bene cauſe of any ſuch decay: In thoſe caſes they ſhall order and compell al ſuch perſons meane (which from vnder the Lorde, vnto the baſe or terretenant, ſhal be found to haue bene cauſe of ſuch decay) to contribute towardes the reedifying or reparing of any Tenement ruined or decayed ſince the time of their intereſt in the premiſſes, and alſo to the helpe of the furniture of the partie ſo decayed: And ſhall alſo cauſe them to bee bounde, during their particular eſtates, to obſerue the order of the ſaide Commiſſioners, to be taken as is aforeſayde, towardes the ſayde Tenantes, inhabitants, and ſeruice. And becauſe diuers perſons beeing Lordes and owners, and others alſo, that haue particular eſtates vnder the ſaid Lords and owners, which are by the ſayde Commiſſioners in diuers caſes aboue mentioned, to bee charged with the contributions aboue mentioned, may be abſent out of the parties, where the ſayde Commiſſioners ſhall haue authoritie to execute the ſayde Commiſſion, and ſhall not appeare vpon ſummons and precepes, and ſhall haue no landes or tenementes within the iuriſdiction of the ſayde Commiſſion, to ſatisfie ſuch paines or amercements, as ſhall bee ſet vpon them, to performe their order: In ſuch caſes the Commiſſioners or ſuch ſixe of them as is afore ſayd, ſhall eſtreate the ſame paines and amercementes into the Exchequer in like maner, as Iuſtices of peace ought to doe for fines and amercementes, taxed or ſet before them. And there vpon the Barons and Courte of Exchequer, ſhall vſe al good diligence to procure the leuying thereof vpon the parties amerced, or that ſhal forfeit paines in any part of the realme, whereſoeuer the ſaide partie ſhall remaine, And vpon the ſame anſwered by any ſhirffe or other officer, the ſame ſhall bee payed by order of the principall officers of the ſaide Exchequer, to the Commiſſioners or ſome of them, to be by them anſwered to ſuch to whom the ſame ſhall bee due without further warrant frō her Maieſtie for the ſame.

Prouided alſo, that where the Commiſsioners, or any such sixe of them as aforesaide, shal finde that any thing is and ought to be done for the furtherance of this seruice, in any of the premisses in the Queens Maiesties charge, in respect of any her landes, Lordships, or tenementes, or of any thing taken by any officers of her reuenue, or by any other person attending vpon the saide officers or ministers, or by any other meanes to their owne vse: In such cases the said Commissioners, or such sixe, as aforesaid, shall certifie to the Lord Treasourer, Chauncellour and Barons of the exchequer, their directions and orders concerning the contributions by them reasonably thought meete to be made in her Maiesties behalfe, or by any her officers or ministers, to the intent the saide Lorde Treasourer or Chauncellour and Barons, or any two of them, whereof the Lorde Treasourer or Chauncellour for the time beeing to bee one, shall on her Maiesties behalfe direct warrants to her Maiesties receiuers of the saide Countie to make paiment and allowance, according to the order and direction of the said Commissioners, without any other speciall warrant from her Maiestie for the same, and they shall also compell all other her Maiesties said officers and Ministers, or their deputies, that shall bee ordered by the commissioners, as aforesaid, to make contribution, as is aboue said, to make paiment, and to satisfie the saide orders in like sort and maner, as if the saide orders and directions were decreed by the sayde court of Exchequer.

¶ Seruice and Sacraments.

The King perceiuing that many arrogant and ignorant men do peruert many things wel and godly inſtituted, and namely namely in the moſt comfortable ſacrament of the body and blood of our Sauiour Ieſus Chriſt, commonly called the ſacrament of the altar, and in Scripture, The Supper and Table of the Lorde, the Communion and partaking of the body and blood of Chriſt, which Sacrament was inſtituted of no leſſe authour then of our Sauiour both God and man, when at his laſt Supper among his Apoſtles, hee did take the bread into his holy hands, and did ſay, Take you and eate: This is my body which is giuen and broken for you. And taking vp the Chalice or cup, did giue thankes and ſay, This is my blood of the Newe Teſtament which is ſhead for you and for many, for the remiſſion of ſinnes, that whenſoeuer wee ſhoulde doe the ſame, wee ſhould doe it in the remembrance of him, and to declare and ſet foorth his death and moſt glorious paſſion vntill his comming. Of which bread whoſoeuer eateth, or of the which cuppe whoſoeuer drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh condemnation and iudgement to himſelfe, making no difference of the Lordes body. The inſtitution of which Sacrament being ordeined by Chriſt as is afore ſayde, and the ſayde wordes ſpoken of it heere before rehearſed, being of eternall, infallible and vndoubted trueth, yet the ſayde Sacrament hath bene of late marueilouſly abuſed by the ſayd perſons, contemning the whole thing for certaine abuſes heretofore committed therein, reuiling it, and diſputing vngodly of that moſt holy Myſterie, and calling it by vile and vnſeemely wordes: For reformation whereof, bee it &c. That whatſoeuer perſon or perſons from and after the firſt day of May next comming, ſhall depraue, deſpiſe or contemne the ſaid moſt bleſſed Sacrament in contempt thereof by any contemptuous wordes, or by any wordes of deprauing, deſpiſing or reuiling, or what perſon or perſons ſhall aduiſedly in any other wiſe contemne, deſpiſe or reuile the ſayde moſt bleſſed Sacrament contrary to the effects and declaration afore ſaid, that then he or they ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of his or their bodies, and make fine and ranſome at the kings will and pleaſure. And for full and effectuall execution of the premiſſes before deuiſed, ordeined and enacted by this Acte: Be it further enacted by the authoritie of this preſent parliament, that immediatly after the firſt day of May next comming, the Iuſtices of peace or three of them at the leaſt, whereof one of them to be of the Quorum in euery Shire of this Realme, and Wales, and all other places within the kings dominions, ſhall haue full power and authoritie by vertue of this Acte, aſwell to take information as accuſation by the othes and depoſitions of two hable, honeſt, and lawfull perſons at the leaſt, and after ſuch accuſation or information ſo had, to enquire by the othes of twelue men in euery their foure quarter Seſſions peerely to be holden, of all and ſinguler ſuch accuſations or informations to bee had or made of any of the offences aboue ſayde to be committed or done after the ſayde firſt day of May, within the limittes of their Commiſſion, and that vpon euery ſuch accuſation or information, the offendour and offendours ſhall bee enquired of, and indicted before the ſayde Iuſtices of peace or three of them at the leaſt, as is afore ſayde, of the ſayde contemptes and offences by the verdict of twelue honeſt and indifferent men, if the matter of the ſayde accuſation and information ſhall ſeeme to the ſayde Iurie, good and true.

And it is further enacted by the authoritie afore ſaid, that the ſaid Iuſtices of peace, or three of them at the leaſt, as is afore ſaid, before whom any ſuch preſentment, information, and accuſation ſhall be made or taken, as is afore ſaide, ſhall examine the accuſers what other witneſſe were by and preſent at the time of doing and committing of the offence, whereof the information, accuſation and preſentment ſhalbe made, and how many other then the accuſers haue knowledge thereof, and ſhall haue power and authoritie by their diſcretions to bind by recognizãce to be taken before them, aſwell the ſaide accuſors, as all ſuch other perſons, whome the ſame accuſors ſhall declare to haue knowledge of the offences by them preſented and informed, euery of them in v. li. to the king, to appeare before the ſayd Iuſtices of peace, before whom the offendor or offendors ſhall be tried at the day of triall and deliuerance of ſuch offendors.

And it is further enacted by the authority afore ſaid, that the ſaid Iuſtices of Peace or three of them at the leaſt, as is afore ſaide, by vertue of this act, ſhall haue full power and authoritie, to make Proceſſe againſt euery perſon & perſons ſo indicted by two Capias and one exigent, and by Capias vtlagatum, aſwell within the limits of their Commiſſion, as into all other Shires and places of

And be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that in all trials for any such Triall offendors before the saide Iustices as is aforesayd, the person or persons, being complained on and arraigned, shall bee admitted to purge or try his or their innocencie, by as many or more witnesses in number, and of Witnesses as good honestie and credence as the witnesses bee, which deposed against him or them, or any of them.

And for as much as it is more agreeable, both to the first institution of the saide Sacrament Sacrament of the most precious body & blood of our Sauiour Iesus Christ and also more conformable to the common vse and practise, both of the Apostles, and of the primitiue Church by the space of fiue hundred yeeres and more after Christes Ascension, that the sayde blessed Sacrament shoulde Both kinds be ministred to all Christian people, vnder both the kindes of bread and wine, then vnder the fourme of bread onely: and also it is more agreeable to the first institution of Christ, and to the vsage of the Apostles, and the Primitiue Church, that the people being present, shoulde receiue the same with the Priest, then that the Priest shoulde receiue it alone.

Therefore bee it enacted by our Soueraign Lord the king, with the consent of the Lords Spirituall and Temporall, and the Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authoritie of the same, that the said most blessed sacrament be hereafter commonly deliuered and ministred vnto the people, within this Church of Englande and Irelande, and other the kings dominions, vnder both the kindes, that is Both kinds to say, of bread and wine, except necessitie other wise require, & also ỳ the Priest, which shall minister the same, shall at the least one day before, exhort all persons which shall be present, likewise to resort, and prepare themselues to receiue the same. And when the day prefixed commeth, after a godly exMinister hortation by the minister made (wherein shall be further expressed the benefite and comfort promised to them which worthily receyue the sayde holy Sacrament, and daunger and indignation of God threatned to them which shall presume to receiue the same vnworthily, to the end that euery man may try and examine his owne conscience, before hee shall receiue the same) the sayde Minister shall not without a lawfull cause Denie denye the same to any person, that will deuoutly and humbly desire it: Any lawe, statute, ordinance or custome cõtrary hereunto in any wise notwithstanding: Not condemning hereby the vsage of any Church out of the kings Maiesties dominions. An. 1. Ed. 6. capitulo primo. This act was repealed by 1. and 2. Philip & Marie, and is reuiued by 1. Elizab. capitulo secundo. Before in Crowne 6. But note the time of the first making of this Statute, which was before that the Masse was taken away, when the opinion of the reall presence was not remoued from vs.

2 ¶ An. 2. E. 6. capitulo primo, was an acte made that the seruice and Sacraments should be in English according to a Booke English thereof made. And diuers things be in that act concerning those matters. And after, An. 5. Ed. 6. ca. 1. it appeareth that the sayd English booke was altered and changed in diuers things, and that therunto was added a forme of making and consecrating of Bishops and Priests. And in the same acte of An. 5. Ed. 6. cap. 1. It was enacted to compell people to come to the Church to the English seruice, and punishment appointed for them that should be present at any other seruice, as followeth here 3.

3 ¶ Be it enacted by the king our soueraigne Lord, with the assent of the Lordes and Commons in this present parliament assembled, and by the authoritie of the same, that from and after the feast of all Saintes next comming, al and euery person and persons, inhabiting within this Realme or any other the kings Maiesties dominions, shall diligently and faithfully, hauing no lawful or reasonable excuse to be absent, endeuour themselues to resort to their parish Church Church or Chappel accustomed, or vpon reasonable let thereof, to some vsuall place where common prayer and such seruice of God shall be vsed in such time of let, vpon euery Sunday, and other dayes ordayned and vsed to be kept as holy dayes, and then there to abide orderly and soberly during the time of the Common prayer, preachings, or other seruice of God, there to bee vsed and ministred, vpon paine of punishment, by the censures of the Church.

And for the due execution hereof, the kings most excellent Maiestie, the Lordes temporall, & all the Commons in this present parliament assembled, doth in Gods name earnestly require and charge all the Archbishops, bishops & other ordinaries, that they shall endeuour themselues to the vttermost of their knowledges, that the due and true execution hereof may bee had throughout their Dioceese and charges, as they will answere before God, for such euils and plagues wherwith almighty God may iustly punish his people for neglecting this good and wholesome law. And for their authoritie in this behalfe, be it further likewise enacted by the authoritie aforesayd, that all and singuler the same Archbishops, bishops, and al other their officers, exercising Ecclesiasticall iurisdiction, aswell in place exempt as not exempt within their Dioceese, shall haue full power and authoritie by this acte, to reforme, correct and punish by the cen- Correct sures of the Church, all and singuler persons, which shall offend within any their iurisdictions or Dioceses, after the sayde feast of all Saintes next comming against this act and Statute, any other Lawe, Statute, Priuiledge, Libertie or Prouision heretofore made, had, or suffered to the contrary notwithstanding. And because there hath arisen in the vse & exercise of the foresayd common seruice in the Church heretofore set foorth, diuers doubts for the fashion and manner of the ministration of the same, rather by the curiositie of the Minister, and mistakers, then of any other woorthie cause: Therefore aswell for the more plaine and manifest explanation hereof, as for the more perfection of the sayd order of Common Seruice in some places where it is necessary to make the same prayer and fashion of Seruice more earnest and fitte to stirre Christian people to the true honouring of Almightie God: The kings most excellent Maiestie, with the assent of the Lordes and commons in this present parliament assembled, and by the authoritie of the same, hath caused the foresayde order of Common Seruice, entituled The booke of Common prayer, to bee faithfully and godly perused, explained and made fully perfect, and by the aforesayd authoritie, hath annexed and ioyned it so explaned and perfected to this present Statute, adding also a forme and maner of making and consecra- Consecrating ting of Archbishops, Bishops, Priestes, and Deacons to be of like force, authoritie and value as the same like aforesayd booke, intituled the booke of common prayer was before, and to bee accepted, receiued, vsed, and esteemed, in like sort and maner, & with the same clauses of prouisions, & exceptions to all intentes, constructions and purposes, as by the Acte of Parliament made in the seconde yeere of the kings Maiesties raigne, was ordayned, limitted, expressed, and appointed for the vniformitie of Seruice and administration of the Sacraments throughout the Realme, vpon such seuerall paines as in the sayd Act of Parliament is expressed: And the sayde former Acte to stande in full force and strength, to all intents and constructions, and to bee applyed, practised and put in vre, to, and for the establishing of the booke of common prayer, now explained, and hereunto annexed, and also the sayde forme of making of Archbishops, Bishops, Priestes, and Deacons, hereunto annexed, as it was for the former booke.

And by the authoritie aforesaid it is now further enacted, that if any maner of person or persons, inhabiting and being within this Realme, or any other the kings Maiesties dominions, shall after the sayde feast of all Saints, willingly and wittingly, heare and bee present at any other manner or forme of Common prayer, of administration of the Sacraments, of making of Ministers in the Church, or of any other rites contayned in the Booke annexed to this Acte, then is mentioned and set foorth in the sayde booke, or that is contrary to the forme of sundry prouisions and exceptions contained in the foresayd former statute, and shall bee thereof conuicted, according to the lawes of this Realme before the Justices of Assise, Justices of Oyer and determiner, Justices of Peace in their Session, or any of them by the verdict of twelue men, or by his or their owne confession or otherwise, shal for the first offence suffer imprisonment for sixe moneths, without bayle or mayneprise, and for the second offence, being likewise conuicted, as is abouesayde, imprisonment for one halfe yeere, and for the thirde offence in like manner, imprisonment during his or their liues. And for the more knowledge to bee giuen hereof, and better obseruation of this lawe: Be it enacted by authoritie aforesayde, that all and singuler Curates shall vpon one Sunday euery quarter of the yere, during one whole yeere next following the foresayde feast of all Saints next comming, read this present act in the Church, at the time of the most assembly, and likewise once in euery yeere following at the same time, declaring vnto the people, by the authoritie of the Scripture, how the mercy and goodnesse of God hath in all ages beene shewed to his people, in their necessities and extremities, by meanes of hearty and faithfull prayers made to almighty God, especially where people be gathered together with one faith and minde, to offer vp their hearts by prayers, as the best sacrifices that Christian men can yeeld. And that if any maner of person, vicar, or other whatsoeuer minister, that ought or should sing or say commō prayer mentioned in the said booke, or minister ꝑ sacraments, from and after the feast of the Natiuitie of S. Iohn Baptist next comming, refuse to vse the said common prayers, or to minister the Sacraments in such cathedral or parish church, or other places, as hee should vse to minister the same, in such order and forme as they be mentioned and set forth in the said booke, or shall wilfully or obstinately standing in the same, vse any other rite, ceremonie, order, forme, or maner of celebrating the Lords Supper, openly or priuily, or Mattens, Euensong, administration of the Sacraments, or other open prayers then is mentioned and set foorth in the saide booke, (Open prayer in and thorowout this acte, is meant that prayer which is for other to come vnto, or heare, either in common Churches or priuie Chappels, or oratories, commonly called the Seruice of the Church) or shall preach, declare or speake any thing in the derogation or deprauing of the saide booke, or any thing therin contained, or of any part thereof, and shall be thereof lawfully conuicted, according to the lawes of this Realme, by verdict of twelue men, or by his own confession, or by the notorious euidence of the fact, shall lose and forfaite to the Queenes highnesse, her heires and successors, for his first offence, the profit of al his spiritual benefices or promotion, comming or arising in one whole yere next after his conuiction. And also that the person so conuicted, shall for the same offence suffer imprisonment by the space of sixe moneths, without baile or mainprise. And if any such person once conuict of any offence concerning the premisses, shall after his first conuiction eftsoones offende, and bee thereof in fourme aforesaide lawfully conuict: that then the same person shall for his second offence suffer imprisonment by the space of one whole yeere, and also shall therefore be depriued, ipso facto, of all his spirituall promotions: And that it shal be lawfull to all Patrons or Donours of al and singuler the same spirituall promotions, or any of them, to present or collate to the same, as though the person or persons, so offending were dead. And that if any such person or persons, after hee shall be twice conuicted in forme aforesaide, shal offend against any of the premisses the thirde time, and shall be thereof in forme aforesaid lawfully conuicted: that then the person so offending and conuicted the third time, shalbe depriued, ipso facto, of all his spiritual promotions, and also shall suffer imprisonment during his life. And if the person that shall offend, and be conuict in fourme aforesaide, concerning any of the premisses shal not be beneficed, nor haue any spirituall promotion: that then the same person so offending and conuict, shall for the first offence suffer imprisonment during one whole yeere next after his saide conuiction, without baile or mainprise. And if any such person not hauing any spiritual promotion, after his first conuiction, shall eftsoones offende in any thing concerning the premisses, and shall in fourme aforesaide be thereof lawfully conuicted, that then the same person shall for his second offence suffer imprisonment during his life. And also to reforme, repaire, and amend the said walles, ditches, bankes, gutters, sewers, gotes, calsies, bridges streames, & other the premisses in all places needefull, and the same as often as where neede shall be, to make new: And to cleanse and purge the trenches, sewers, and ditches in all places necessary. And further to reforme, amend, prostrate, and ouerthrow all such milles, streames, ponds, lockes, fishgarths, hebbing weares, and other impediments and annoyances aforesayd, as shalbe found by inquisition, or by your surueying and discretions to bee excessiue or hurtfull. And also to depute and assigne diligent, faithfull, and true keepers, bailifes, surueiours, collectours, expenditours, and other ministers and officers, for the safetie, conseruation, reparation, and making of the premisses and euery of them, and to heare the account of the collectours & other ministers of and for the receit and laying out of the money that shalbe leuied and payed, in and about ỹ making, repairing, reforming and amending of the sayd walles, ditches, bankes, gutters, gotes, sewers, calsies, bridges, streames, trenches, mils, ponds, locks, fishgarths, sludgates, and other impediments, and annoyances aforesayd. And to distreine for the arrerages of euery such collection, taxe, or assisse as often as shalbe expedient, or otherwise to punish the debters and detainers of the same by fines, amerciaments, paines, or other like meanes after your good discretions. And also to arrest and take as many carts, horses, oxen, beasts, and other instruments necessary, and as many workemen and labourers, as for the sayde workes and reparation shall suffice, paying for the same competent wages, salarie and stipend in that behalfe. And also take such and as many trees, woods, vnderwoods and timber, and other necessaries, as for the same workes and reparations shalbe sufficient, at a reasonable price by you or sixe of you, of the which we will that A, B, and C, shalbe three, to be allowed or limited aswell within the limits and bounds aforesaid, as in any other place within the sayde county or counties neere vnto ỹ said places. And to make and ordeine statutes, ordinances and prouisions from time to time, as the case shall require, for the sauegard, conseruation, redresse, correction, and reformation of the premisses, and of euery of them, and the parties lying to the same, necessary and behouefull after the lawes and customes of Romney marsh, in the countie of Kent, or otherwise by any wayes or meanes after your owne wisdomes & discretions. And to heare and determine all & singuler the premisses, aswel at our suite, as the suite of any other whatsoeuer complayning before you, or sixe of you, whereof A, B, and C, shall be three, after the lawes and customes aforesayd, or otherwise by any other wayes and meanes after your discretions. And also to make and direct all writs, precepts, warrants, or other commandements, by vertue of these presents, to all sheriffes, bailifes, and all other ministers, officers, and other persons aswell within liberties as without, before you, or sixe of you, whereof the sayd A, B, and C, to bee three, at certaine dayes, termes and places to bee prefixed, to be returned and reteined. And further, to continue the processe of the same, and finally to doe all and euery thing and things as shall be requisite for the due execution of the premisses by all wayes and meanes after your discretiõs. And therefore we command you, that at certaine dayes and places, when and where you or sixe of you, whereof the sayd A, B, & C, to be three, shal thinke expedient, ye doe survey the sayd walles, fences, ditches, banks, gutters, gotes, sewers, callies, ponds, bridges, riuers, streames, walcourses, mils, locks, trenches, fishgarths, sloodgates, and other the lets, impediments, and annoyances aforesayd, and accomplish, fulfill, heare and determine all and singuler the premisses, in due forme, and to the effect aforesaid, after your good discretions. And all such as ye shall finde negligent, gainesaying, or rebelling in the sayd workes, reparations, or reformation of the premisses, or negligent in the due execution of this our commission, that ye doe compel them by distresse, fines, and amerciaments, or by other punishments, wayes, or meanes, which to you, or sixe of you, whereof the sayd A, B, and C, shalbe three, shall seeme most expedient for the speedie remedie, redresse and reformation of the premisses, and due exe-

Prouided alway that all and euery person and persons, being the Kings temporall subiects of this Realme, and borne vnder his obeisance, which at this present time, or at any time hereafter shall haue or be seased of inheritaunce in possession or in vse, or that now hath or hereafter shall haue ioynter in vse or in possession, or be, or shall be tenant in dower, or by the courtesie of England, of or in any manours, lands, tenements, pastures, feedings, or libertie of foldage within any part of this Realme of England, Wales, or the Marches of the same, that euery such person and persons hauing any such possession to his owne vse, and euery such person and persons to whose vse any other person or persons now is, or be, or hereafter shall be seased of any such estate as is before rehearsed: may at all times hereafter haue, enioy, keepe and mainteine vpon the same their owne demeane landes, and all other their pastures, feedings, & foldcourses which they so haue, as many their owne sheepe and lambes in number to their proper vse, profit, and behoofe, as they or any of them of right had, or lawfully might haue had and kept vpon the same, or vpon any part thereof, at any time before the making of this present act: this acte or any thing therein conteined or specified, to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding. And ouer that be it &c. by the authoritie aforesayd, that in case any such person or persons hauing any such estate in vse or in possession, of, or in any maner lands, tenements, pastures, feedings, or liberties of foldcourses as is before expressed, haue, or doe keepe vpon the same their possessions, the number of two thousande sheepe or aboue, the same person or persons so hauing the nũber of two thousand sheepe or aboue, shall not in any wise keepe, susteine or haue any sheepe aboue or beside the sayde number of two thousand vpon any lands, pastures or feedings, which the same person or persons haue, or hereafter shall haue or take in farme or otherwise, vpon such like paines & forfeitures for the same, as be limited in the said acte, that is to say, for euery sheepe ouer and aboue the sayde number of two thousand, iii.s. iiii.d. And in case the said demeane lands, tenements, pastures, feedings, & liberties, or foldcourses of any person or persons before rehearsed, suffice not for the feeding, pasturing, & keeping of two thousand sheepe as is aforesayde, that then euery such person shall, or may haue, susteine or feed vpon his said demeane lands, & vpon his farme holds which he lawfully may haue, to the saide number of two thousand sheepe, and not aboue, vpon pain of forfeiture for euery sheepe aboue that number iii.s. iiii.d. Prouiso Landes Wales Demeane lands Two thousand sheepe Farme Foyl.

Prouided alway, and bee it &c. that it shall be lawfull to euery person or persons within this Realme, keeping a housholde, to haue from time to time such conuenient number of sheepe, ouer and aboue the number expressed in this act, as shalbe necessary for the only expenses of his housholde to be prouided, kept, & fed, in and vpon his owne landes, or other landes, such as he lawfully can or may haue, or prouide for, in farme or otherwise: Any thing in this present acte conteined to the contrarie notwithstanding. So that the same householder at no time shall haue or keepe for the expenses of his housholde, or by colour of the same ouer and aboue the number to him limited by this acte, any number of sheepe moe then shall suffice for the onely expenses of his householde for one yeere without fraude or couine, any thing in this present act mentioned or expressed to the contrary notwithstanding. Prouiso Housholde

Be it &c. that no maner person or persons of what degree soeuer he or they be, being lord or lords, owner or owners, farmer or farmers, of or in any libertie of foldcourses within any towne, tithing, village or hamlet, within any of the counties of Norfolke and Suffolke from and after the feast of the Nativity of our Lord God next comming, shall take in farme for terme of yeres or otherwise, any quillets of landes or pastures, that is to say, any number of acres of land or pasture apperteining to any other person or persons, lying, and being within the limit, extent, or precinct of the sayde libertie of the sayd foldcourses, but that they shall permit and suffer the sayd persons hauing or being for the time owner and owners, lease or leases of the sayde quillets, to manure and pasture the sayde quillets: And also to suffer the sheepe of the sayde owner or owners, farmer or farmers of the sayd quillets after the rate of the same quillets to go with the flocke of the owner, farmer or occupier of the sayde libertie or liberties of the sayde foldcourses, paying the customary charges for the keeping and Lords Farmers Foldcourse Norfolke Suffolke Farme Quillets Lease

Prouided alway that this act or branch concerning quillets, or any thing therein conteined, shall not in any wise be auaileable to any tenant, owner or occupier of any such quillet or quillets to claime, haue or vse hereafter any such pasture of feeding of sheepe, in or with any such foldcourses, but onely where the tennants, owners and occupiers of any such quillets, haue had, or might haue had heretofore of right and dutie vsed to haue pasture and feeding in the said foldcourses, by reason of their tenure and occupations of ẏ same quillet or quillets and none otherwise. And where they haue not vsed, ne ought to haue any sheepe fed or kept within any such foldcourses, by reason of the said tenures, that the owners or occupiers of such foldcourses may take such quillets lying within their foldcourses in farme, agreeing with the owners or occupiers of the said quillets for the same. And forasmuch as the hundred of sheepe in euery countrey be not like, in some countrey the great hundred where fiue score is accounted for the hundred, and some countrey but onely fiue score, it is eft declared by this present act, that the number of two thousand sheepe, limitted to euery person by this act, shall be accounted ten hundred for euery thousand after the number of the great hundred, and not after the lesse hundred, so that euery thousand shall conteine tweine hundred after the lesse number of the hundred. It is, &c. that lambes vnder the age of one whole yeere, and as much as shalbe from the time of the falling of them vnto the feast of the Natiuitie of S. Iohn Baptist in any yeere to come, shall not be adiudged ne taken for sheepe prohibited by the statute: any thing in the act to the contrary notwithstanding. It is &c. that no maner of person after the said feast of the Natiuitie of our Lord, shall receiue or take to farme for terme of life, yeeres, or at will, by Indenture, Copie of Court rolle or otherwise, any moe houses & tenements of husbandrie, whereunto any lands are belonging in Towne, Tillage, Hamlet, or Tithing within this Realme, aboue the number of two such holdes or tenements. And that no maner person shall haue or occupie any such holdes so newly taken to the number of two, as is before expressed, except hee or they be dwelling within the same Parishes where such holdes be, vpon the paine of forfeiture for euery weeke that he or they shall haue, occupie or take any profits of such holdes contrary to this act, three shillings and foure pence. The one moitie of which forfeiture to be to the king our soueraigne Lord, and the other moitie to the partie that will sue for the same in any of the Kings courts, by bill, plaint, information or otherwise within one yeere next after such contempt and offence committed and done, in the which none essoine, protection, ne wager of law shalbe admitted or allowed. It is also &c. that the statute made in the fourth yeere of the noble prince K. Henry the seuenth (cap. 19. which is in Husbandrie 1.) and in ẏ seuenth yeere of the reigne of our Soueraigne Lord the King that now is (cap. 1. which is in Husbandrie 2.) concerning ẏ decay of townes and maintenance of tillage and husbandry, shall be good and effectuall in euery thing according to the purport and intent of the same, any thing in this present act to the contrary notwithstanding.

and further as shall be deuised by their discretion: so that the king, his heires and successors may be truely answered of the issues and profits of the same, without other warrant to be pursued and obteined for the premisses, or any part thereof: Any Statute, Act, ordinance or vse heretofore to the contrary had, made or vsed in any wise notwithstanding. And furthermore, where diuers and sundry summes of money bene respected to many persons, which haue beene shirifes of the said counties before this time vpon their accounts yeelden in the Kings said court of the Exchequer, of the foresaid farmes and other viconteis, vpon diuers petitions in the saide Court, forsomuch as they, ne any of them could nor might leuie the same by vertue of the summes of the said Eschequer, for such causes as the same late shirifes haue alleaged in their saide petitions, as by the same petitions more plainly doeth appeare: Bee it further enacted that all and euery the saide late shirifes vpon their othes taken in the saide court that the causes alleadged in the same petition be true, and the same causes examined in the same Court accordingly, bee, by vertue of this present acte clearely acquited and discharged against the kings maestie and his heires and successours for euer, of all and euery such summe and summes of money, so not leuied nor leuiable, but in respect, as is before rehearsed. And therupon such like processe to be awarded by the saide Court, and such conuenient wayes and meanes by commission and otherwise to be had according to the course of the saide Eschequer, from time to time, as shall be deuised by the said lord Treasorer, Chamberlains, Chanceller and Barons, in the absence of the saide Lord Treasorer, Chamberlaines or Chanceller, or any of them, by the said Baron, and by as many of the saide lord Treasurer, Chamberlains and Chancellour, as then shall happen to bee there then present, without either warrant or sute in that behalfe to be had. And forasmuch as the Shirifes of the saide Counties for the time beeing, shall sustaine and support diuers charges by reason of their saide office of shirifewike, as in executing the Kings writs and summons, and leuying all summes of money conteined in the extracts within their Counties, and in comming to the Exchequer to make their profers and viewes of their accounts, and make payment of all that shalbe due vpon euery of their viewes and accounts, and other diuers costes and charges concerning the same office of shirifewike, without hauing from henceforth any taile or tailes of reward, portage, or other allowances toward their said charges. And where also diuers of the saide shirifes heretofore haue vsed at their owne cost, to beare yeerely the charges of the expenses of the Kings Justices of assise, Nisi prius, generall and speciall gaole deliueries, and Oyer, determiner, and of their Clerks of assises, and seruants of the same Sessions at their comming two times in the yeere, during such time as the saide Justices remaine and serue the kings highnesse there, without hauing heretofore any recompence or allowance for the same: And to the intent that euery of the saide Shirifes for the time being, may and shal hereafter be more able diligently to serue the King in his or their saide offices without taking any vnlawfull exactions of the Kings subiects, and also better to make prouisiõ for the said Justices & their company in their circuits, hauing aide of the king toward their saide charges and expenses: The kings highnesse of his liberalitie, in consideration of the same charges so to bee sustained by the saide shirifes, is contented and pleased that it be &c. that euery of the saide shirifes comming to his accounts in the said Exchequer, shewing a bill subscribed with the hands of the saide Justices, or of such of them as shall be present at the saide assises and sessions, making plaine mention of the dayes and time that the said Justices did abide or remaine in the same Countie at the costs of the said Shirifes, in, or about the kings affaires and businesse, shal haue allowance as well hereof, as for other his said reasonable costs, vpon his or their accounts in the said Exchequer, by the discretion of the saide Lorde Treasorer, Chamberlains, Chanceller and Barons, and in the absence of the said Lord Treasorer, Chamberlains, Chancellor, or any of them, by the said Barons, and by as many of the said lord Treasorer, Chamberlains and Chancellour, as then shall happen to be there present by authority of this present act, without warrant or any further sute to be had or made in this behalfe, so that all the allowances for the costes aboue saide, to all the Shirifes doe not amount in any one yeere aboue the summe of three hundred fortie two pound, 342.li.6.s.8.d. sixe shillings eight pence. Parliament. Anno 34.H.8.cap.16. This act is continued 37.H.8.cap.23. to endure to the laſt day of the next Parliament. An. 2.Ed.6.cap.4. this act is altered in part as hereafter folowing appeareth.

34 ¶ That the ſaid former act (S. An. 34.H.8.cap.16. before 33.) and all clauſes and ſentences in the ſame contained, ſhall be from henceforth clearely fruſtrate and voyde to all intentes and purpoſes, other then hereafter in this Acte ſhall bee ſpecified. And that it may be ena. by this preſent parliament that the ſhiriffes which ſhalbe made from henceforth within all the ſhires of England, & alſo ſuch as haue not made and finiſhed their accompt or accompts, ſhall haue ſuch and like tailes of rewarde, and all ſuch other allowances as they had before the making of the ſayd former acte, or els the ſame Shiriffes which ſhall bee or heretofore haue bene, to be at their election and choiſe to accompt, and all other things to do according to the aforeſaid former act. And that they and euery of them, that ſo ſhall accompt and take no taile of reward, ſhalbe in and by all things intreated in the kings Eſchequer, as though the ſayde former acte were, and ſhould continue in his ful ſtrength and effect: Any thing before ſpecified notwithſtanding. And that the ſame tailes of reward and euery of them, by force of this preſent acte, without any further warrant or warrants to be obtained for the ſame, ſhal be leuied or ſtriken, at the receipt of the kings Maieſties Eſchequer, in due maner and forme, with ſuch like letter or writings vpon the ſame tailes and euery of them, as before the making of the ſayde former act were, and haue bene accuſtomed to be leuied and ſtriken. And that the ſame tailes ſo hereafter there to bee leuied and ſtriken, ſhall bee deliuered vnto euery of the ſame Shiriffes, or their ſufficient atturney for them, without preſt or other charge to bee ſet vpon them for the ſame, and that this acte ſhall bee a ſufficient warrant and diſcharge to the Treaſourer of England, and all other officers within the ſayde receipt for ſtriking, leuying and deliuery of the ſayd tailes and euery of them: And further, that all thoſe Shiriffes that hereafter ſhal be made within thoſe Shires of England whereas no tailes of rewarde heretofore haue bene, by the Kings Maieſties moſt noble progenitors, giuen and granted, and ſuch ſhiriffes as ſhall hereafter take no taile of rewarde, ſhall in conſideration of their great coſtes, charges and expences which they ſhall beare and ſuſtaine, as well by the diets of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, as by any other meanes, haue vpon the ende of their accompt, and of euery of them ſuch allowances, vpō a petition to be made by the ſame Shiriffes or any of them, in a Bill to be brought in by the ſame ſhirife and euery of them of their ſayde coſtes and charges, vpon which bils the ſame Shiriffes to bee ſworne in their owne proper perſons, or by their vndershirifs, or lawfull atturney thervnto admitted to be true, without warrant or taile ſuing for the ſame. And alſo that al ſhiriffes, which hereafter ſhall take no taile of rewarde, and euery of them ſhall bee diſcharged vpon their accompts, of all ſuch Farmes, goods, cattels, profits, caſualties, and ſummes of money which they might or ſhoulde bee charged with vpon their accompts in the ſayd Eſchequer, by what title or name ſoeuer they bee named, or vpon whatſoeuer perſon or perſons they ſhall be ſtreated, or out of whatſoeuer lands and tenements they ſhall be going forth, as they cannot leuie nor come by. And that all other Shiriffes which hereafter ſhall take any taile of rewarde, ſhall in like maner bee diſcharged of all ſuch farmes and ſummes of money aforeſayde, (except onely of the vicountels of their ſhires, wherewith they ſhall bee charged, and anſwerable as they were before the making of the aforeſayde former acte.) And alſo the ſame ſhiriffes of euery ſhire of England that nowe bee, or heretofore haue bene, or that hereafter ſhall bee, and euery of them, ſhall haue plaine deduction and allowance in their ſayde accompts of all ſuch ſumme and ſummes of money, as they or any of them ſhall make or haue true petition of, for, or concerning ſuch poſſeſſions and hereditaments, as bee come vnto or were in the Kings maieſties handes, or any his progenitours, by vnitie of poſſeſſion, or by any meane out of the which any part or parcel of the aforeſaid vicountels were at any time heretofore leuiable or leuied. And that the Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlaine, Chauncellour, and Barons of the ſayde Eſchequer, or in the abſence of the ſayd lord Treaſurer, Chamberlaine and Chauncellour, the ſayde Barons ſhall by authority of this Acte, giue and make allowance, deduction, and exoneration, to euery the ſayd Shiriffes of the ſayde farmes, and of all other things without any other warrant. ¶ Suite.

FOr doing suits vnto the courts of great Lordes, or of meaner persons, from Feoffement Distraine henceforth this order shall be obserued, that none that is infeoffed by deede, from henceforth shall be distrained to doe such suite in the court of his Lord, without he be specially bound thereto by the forme of his deede. These onely being except, whose ancestors or they themselues, haue vsed to doe such suite before the first voyage of the sayd king Henry into Britaine, sithence which xxxix yeeres and an halfe are passed vnto the time that these Statutes were enacted. Likewise from henceforth none that is infeoffed Without deede without deed from the time of the cõquest, or any other ancient feoffement, shall bee distrained to doe such suites, vnlesse that he or his auncestors vsed to doe it before the sayde voyage. And they that are infeoffed by deed Sernice to doe a certaine seruice, as for seruice of so many shillings by yeere, to be acquited of all seruice from hencefoorth, shall not bee bounden to such suites or other like, contrary vnto the forme of their feoffement. And if any inheritance (whereof but one suite is due) discende vnto many heires, as to parceners, who so that hath the eldest part of the inheritance shall doe that one suite for himselfe and his fellowes, and the other coheires shall be contributaries according to the portion for doing such suit. And if many feoffees bee seised of any inheritance, (whereof but one suite is due) the lord of the fee shall haue but that one suite, and shal not exact of the saide inheritance but that one suit, as hath bin vsed to be done before. And if those feoffees haue no warrant or meane which ought to acquite them, then all the feoffees according to their portion, shall bee contributaries for doing the suite of them. And if it chaunce that the Lordes of the fee doe distraine their tenants, for such suites, contrary to this Acte: then at the complaint of the tenants, the lordes shall be attached to appeare in the kings court at a short day, to make answere thereto, and shall haue but one essoine therein (if they bee within the Realme.) And immediatly the beastes or other distresses taken by this occasion, shall bee deliuered to the plaintifes, and so shall remaine vntill the plea betwixt them be determined. And if the lordes of the courtes, which tooke distresses, come not at the day that they were attached, or doe not keepe the day giuen to them by essoine: then the Shirifes shall bee commaunded to cause them to come at another day, at which day if they come not, then he shall be commanded to distraine them by all the goods and cattels that they haue in the shire, so that the shirife shall aunswere to the king of the issues of the said inheritance, And that he haue their bodyes before our Justicers at a certaine day limitted, so that if they come not at that day, the party pl. shal go without day, and his beastes or other destresses taken by that colour, shal remaine deliuered vntil the same lordes haue recouered the same suite by awarde of the kings Court, and in the meane time such distresses shall cease. Sauing to the Lordes of the Court their right to recouer those suites in forme of lawe, when they will pleade therefore. And when the Lords of the Courts come in to answere the plaintifes of such trespasses, and be conuict thereupon, then by awarde of the kings courte the plaintifes shall recouer against them the damages, that they haue sustained by occasion of the saide distresse. Likewise if the tenants after this acte withdrawe from their lordes such suites, as they were wont to doe, and which they did before the time of the saide voyage, and hitherto vsed to doe, then by like speedinesse of iustice as bee to limitting of dayes, and awarding of distresses, the lordes of the Courtes shall obtaine iustice to recouer their suites with the dammages, in like maner as the tenant shoulde recouer theirs. And this recouering of dammages must be vnderstood of withdrawing from themselues and not of withdrawing from their auncessours, neuertheless the Lordes of the courts shall not recouer seisin of such suites against their tenants by default, as they were woont to doe. And touching suites withdrawen before the time afore mentioned, let the common Lawe runne as it was woont before time. Marlb. cap. 9. Anno 25 Hen. 3.

heire of their bodies begotten, the land so giuen shall reuert to the giuer or his heire. In case also where one giueth land to another, and to the heires of his body issuing, it seemeth very hard, and yet seemeth vnto the giuers and their heires, that their will being expressed in the gift, was not heretofore, nor yet is obserued. In all the cases aforesaid, after issue begotten and borne betweene them (to whome the landes were giuen vnder such condition) heretofore such feffees had power to alien the land so giuen, and to disherite their issue contrary to the mindes of the giuers, and contrary to the forme expressed in the gift. And further, where the issue of such feffee is failing, the land so giuen ought to returne to ỹ giuer or his heire, by forme of the gift expressed in the deede, though the issue (if any were) had died: yet by the deed & feoffement of them, (to whom land was so giuen vpon condition) the donors haue heretofore beene barred of their reuersion, which was directly repugnant to the forme of the gift: wherefore our soueraigne Lord the King, perceiuing how necessarie and expedient it should be to prouide remidy in the aforesaid cases, hath ordeined, that the will of the giuer, according vnto the forme in the deede of gift manifestly expressed, shall be from henceforth obserued, so that they, to whom the land was giuen vnder such condition, shall haue no power to alien the land so giuen, but that it shall remaine vnto their issue after their death, or shal reuert vnto the giuer or his heires (if issue faile) whereas there is no issue at all, or if any issue bee, and faile by death, or heire of the body of such issue failing: Neither shall the second husband of any such woman, from henceforth haue any thing in the lande so giuen vpon condition after the death of his wife by the lawe of England, nor the issue of the second husband and wife shall succeede in the inheritance, but immediatly after the death of the husband and wife (to whom the land was so giuen) it shall returne to their issue, or to the giuer, or his heire, as before is sayd. And forasmuch as in a new case new remidy must be prouided, this maner of writ shal be granted to the partie that will purchase it.

London

AS touching the payments of tithes in the City of London & the liberties of the same: It is fully ordered and decreed by the most reuerend Father in God Thomas Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate and Metropolitane of all England, Thomas Lord Wriothesley, Lord Chancellor of England, William Lord Saint John, President of the Kings Maiesties Councell, & Lord Great master of his Highnesse houshold, John lord Russell, Lord Priuie Seale, Edward Earle of Hertford, Lord Great Chamberlaine of England, John Vicount Lisle, high Admiral of England, Richard Lister knight, chiefe Justice of England, and Roger Cholmeley knight, chiefe Baron of his Graces Eschequer, this present foure and twentieth day of Februarie, Anno Domini secundum cursum & computationem Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ, millesimo quingentesimo quadragesimo quinto, according to the statute in such case lately prouided: That the citizens and inhabitants of the said City of London and liberties of the same, for the time being, shall yeerely without fraude or couine for euer, pay their tithes to the Parsons, Vicars, and Curates of the said City & their successors for the time being, after the rate hereafter following: that is to wit, of euery x.s. rent by the yeere of all and euery house and houses, shops, warehouses, cellers, and stables, and euery of them within the sayd citie and libertie of the same xvi.d.ob. And of euery xx.s. rent by yeere of all and euery such house and houses, shops, warehouses, cellers, and stables, & euery of them within the sayd city and liberties ii.s.ix.d. And so aboue the rent of xx.s. by yeere ascending from x.s. to x.s. according to the rate aforesayd.

Parsons Vicars Curates

Tithes

Item that where any lease is or shall be made of any dwelling house or houses, shops, warehouses, cellers or stables, or of any of them by fraude or couine, reseruing lesse rent then hath bene accustomed, or is, or that any such lease shalbe made without any rent reserued vpon the same, by reason of any fine or income payd before hand, or by any fraud or couin: That then in euery such case the tenant or farmer, tenants or farmers thereof shall pay for his or their tithes of the same, after the rate aforesayd, according to the quantity of such rent or rents, as the same house or houses, shops, warehouses, cellers or stables, or any of them were last letten for, without fraud or couin, before the making of such lease.

Item, that euery owner or owners, inheritour or inheritours of any dwelling house or houses, shops, warehouses, cellers or stables, or any of them within the sayd citie and liberties, inhabiting or occupying the same himselfe or themselues, shall pay after such rate or tithe as is aboue said, after the quantity of such yerely rent as the same was last letten for, without fraud or couin.

Item

Leases

Item if any person or persons haue taken, or hereafter shall take any mease or mansion place by lease, and the taker or takers thereof, his or their executours or assignes doth or shal inhabite in part thereof, and haue or hath within viii. yeeres last past before this order, or hereafter will or shall let out the residue of the same: That then in such case the principall farmour or farmours, or first taker or takers thereof, his or their executors or assignes shall pay his or their tithes after the rate aforesaid, according to his or their quantitie therein, & that his or their executors, assignee or assignees, shall pay his or their tithes after the rate aboue said, according to the quantity of his or their rent by yeere. And that if any person or persons haue or shall take diuers mansion houses, shops, warehouses, cellers or stables in one lease, and letteth or shall let out one or moe of the said houses, and keepeth or shall keepe one or moe in his or their owne hands, & inhabiteth or inhabite in the same: That then the saide taker or takers, and his or their executors or assignes shall pay his or their tithes after the rate aboue said according to the quantity of the yerely rent of such mansion house or houses, retained in his or their hands. And that his assignee or assignees of the residue of the said mansion house or houses, shall pay his or their tithes after the rate aboue said, according to the quantity of their yeerely rents.

Item if such farmer or farmers, or his or their assignees of any mansion house or houses, warehouses, shops, cellers or stables, hath at any time within eight yeeres last past, or shal hereafter let ouer al the said mansion house or houses contained in his or their lease, to one person or to diuers persons: that then the inhabitants, lessees or occupiers of them and of euery of them, shall pay their tithes after the rate of such rents, as the inhabitants, lessees or occupiers, and their assignee or assignees beene or shall be discharged withall, without fraude or coune.

Item if any dwelling house within viii. yeres last past was, or hereafter shalbe conuerted into a warehouse, storehouse, or such like, or if a warehouse, storehouse, or such like within the said viii. yeeres was or hereafter shall be conuerted into a dwelling house: That then the occupier or occupiers thereof shal pay tithes for the same, after the rate aboue declared of mansion houserents.

Item that where any person shal demise any dyehouse or brewehouse, with implements conuenient and necessary for dying or brewing, reseruing a rent vpon the same aswell in respect of such implements, as in respect of such dyehouse or brewehouse: That then the tenant shall pay his tithes after such rate as is aboue said, the third penie abated. And that euery principall house or houses with key or wharfe, hauing any crane or gibet belonging to the same, shall pay after the like rate of their rents, as is aforesaide, the third peny abated. And that other wharfes belonging to houses hauing no crane or gibet, shall pay for his tithes as shall be paide for mansion houses in forme aforesaid.

Item, ỳ where any mansion house with a shop, stable, warehouses, wharfe w^th crane, timberyard, teinteryard, or garden belonging to the same, or as parcell of ỳ same, is or shalbe occupied together, that if the same be hereafter seuered or diuided, or at any time within viii. yeeres last past were seuered or diuided: That then the farmer or farmers, occupier or occupiers thereof shall paye such tithes as is aboue saide, for such shops, stable, warehouses, wharfe w^th crane, timberyard, teinteryard, or garden aforesaid, or seuered or diuided after the rate of their seuerall rents thereupon reserued.

Item, that the saide citizens and inhabitants shall pay their tithes quarterly, that is to say, at the feast of Easter, the Natiuitie of S. John Baptist, the feast of S. Michael the Archangel, and the Natiuitie of our Lord, by euen portions.

Item, that euery houshold^er, paying ten shillings rent or aboue, shall for him or her selfe bee discharged of their foure offering dayes, but his wife, children, seruant, or others of their familie, taking their rights of the Church at Easter, shall pay two pence for their foure offering dayes yeerely.

Prouided alwaies, and it is decreed, that if any house or houses, which hath beene or hereafter shall be letten for tenne shillings rent by yere or more, be or hath at any time within eight yeeres last passed, or hereafter shall be diuided and leased into small parcels or members, yeelding lesse yerely rent then ten shillings by yeere: That then the owner or owners, if he or they dwell in any part of such house, or els the principall leasee and leasees, if the owner or owners doe not dwell in some part of the same, shall from henceforth pay for his or their tithes after such rate of rent, as the same house was accuſtomed to be letten for, before ſuch diuiſion or deuiding into parts or members: And the vnderfarmer and farmers, leaſee and leaſees, to bee diſcharged of all tithes for ſuch ſmall parcels, parts or members rented at leſſe yeerely rent then tenne ſhillings by yeere without fraud or couin, paying two pence a piece yerely for their foure offering dayes.

Prouided alway, and it is decreed, that for ſuch gardens as appertaine not to any manſion houſe, and which any perſon or perſons holdeth or ſhall holde in his or their hands for pleaſure, or to his owne vſe, that then the perſon ſo holding the ſame, ſhall pay no tithes for the ſame. But if any perſon or perſons, which holdeth or ſhall hold any ſuch garden, conteyning halfe an acre or more, doeth or ſhall make any yeerely profite thereof by way of ſale: that then he or they ſhall pay tithes for the ſame after ſuch rate of his rent as is herein firſt aboue ſpecified.

Prouided alſo, that if any ſuch gardens now being of the quantitie of halfe an acre or more, be hereafter by fraud or couin diuided into any leſſe quantitie or quantities, then to pay tithe according to the rate aboueſaid.

Prouided alway, that this decree ſhall not extend to the houſes of great men or noble men, or noble women, kept in their owne hands, and not letten for any rent, which in time paſt hath payed no tithes, ſo long as they ſhall ſo continue vnletten, nor to any halles of craftes or companies, ſo long as they be kept vnletten, ſo that the ſame halles in time paſt haue not vſed to pay any tithes.

Prouided alwayes, and it is decreed, that this preſent order and decree, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to binde or charge any ſheddes, ſtables, cellers, timberyards, ne ceinterpardes, which were neuer parcell of any dwelling houſe, ne appertaining or belonging to any dwelling houſe, ne haue accuſtomed to pay any tithes: but that the ſaid citizens and inhabitants ſhall thereof be quite of paiment of any tithes, as it hath bene vſed and accuſtomed.

Prouided alſo and it is decreed, that where leſſe ſumme then after xvi. pence halfepeny in the tenne ſhillings rent, or leſſe ſumme then two ſhillings nine pence in the xx.s. rent, hath beene accuſtomed to be payed for tithes: that then in ſuch places the ſaide citizens and inhabitants ſhall pay but onely after ſuch rate as hath beene accuſtomed.

Item it is alſo decreed, that if any variance, controuerſie, or ſtrife, doe or ſhal hereafter ariſe in the ſaid City for non paiment of any tithes: or if any variance or doubt ariſe vpon the true knowledge or diuiſion of any rent or tithes within the liberties of the ſaide Citie, or of any extent or aſſeſſement thereof, or if any doubt ariſe vpon any other thing conteined within this decree: that then vpon complaint made by the partie grieued to the Maior of the Citie of London for the time being, the ſaide Maior by the aduiſe of counſell, ſhall call the ſaid parties before him, and make a final end in the ſame with coſtes to be awarded by the diſcretion of the ſaid Maior and his aſſiſtants, according to the intent and purport of this preſent decree.

And if the ſaid Maior make not an ende thereof within two moneths after complaint to him made, or if any of the ſaid parties finde themſelues agreeued: That then the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, vpon complaint to him made within three moneths then next following, ſhall make an ende in the ſame with ſuch coſtes to be awarded as ſhall be thought conuenient, according to the intent and purport of the ſaid decree.

Prouided alwayes, that if any perſon or perſons take any tenement for a leſſe rent then it was accuſtomed to be letten for, by reaſon of any great ruine or decay, burning, or ſuch like occaſions or miſfortunes: That then ſuch perſon or perſons, his executors or aſſignes, ſhall pay tithes onely after the rate of the rent reſerued in his or their leaſe, and none otherwiſe, as long as the ſame leaſe ſhall endure.

10 ¶ Not onely the ſaid actes made in the ſaid xxvii. and xxxii. yeeres of the reigne of the ſaide late king Henry the eight (before 5. and 8.) concerning true paiment of tithes, and euery article and branch therein conteyned, ſhall abide and ſtand in their full ſtrength and vertue: but alſo be it &c. that euery of the kings ſubiects, ſhall from henceforth truely and iuſtly without fraude or guile, diuide, ſet out, yeelde and pay all maner of their prediall tithes in their proper kinde as they riſe and happen in ſuch maner and forme, as hath bin of right yeelded and payed within fourty yeres next before the making of this act, or of right or cuſtome ought to haue bin payed. And that no perſon person shall from hencefoorth take or carry away any such or like tithes which haue bin yeelded or payed within the said fourtie yeeres, or of right ought to haue bin payed in the place or places titheable in the same, before he hath iustly diuided or set foorth for the tithe thereof the tenth part of the same, or otherwise agreed for ẏ same tithes with the Parson, Vicars, or other owner proprietary, or farmer of the same tithes, vnder the paine of forfaiture of treble value of the tithes so taken or caried away. And be it &c. that at all times whensoeuer and as often as the said prediall tithes shall be due at the tithing time of ẏ same, it to be lawful to euery party, to whom any of the said tithes ought to be payed, or his deputy or seruant, to viewe & see their said tithes, to be iustly & truely set forth & seuered from ẏ nine parts, and the same quietly to take and carry away. And if any person carry away his corne or hay, or his other prediall tithes, before the tithe thereof be set forth, or willingly withdrawe his tithes of ẏ same, or of such other things where of prediall tithes ought to be payed, or doe stop or let the Parson, Vicar, proprietarie, owner, or other their deputies or farmours, to viewe, take, and carry away their tithes, as is aboueſaide, by reason whereof the said tithe or tenth is lost impaired or hurt: that then vpõ due proofe thereof made before the spirituall Judge, or any other Judge, to whom heretofore he might haue made complaint, the party so carying away, withdrawing, letting, or stopping, shall pay the double value of the tenth or tithe so taken, lost, withdrawen, or caried away, ouer & besides the costs, charges, and expences of the suit in the same, the same to be recouered before ẏ ecclesiasticall Judge according to ẏ kings ecclesiasticall lawes. And be it &c. that all & euery person which hath or shall haue any beastes or other cattel titheable, going, feeding, or depasturing in any waste or common ground, whereof the parish is not certainely knowen, shall pay their tithes for the increase of the saide cattel so going in the said wast or common, to the Parson, Vicar proprietary, portionary, owner or other their farmers or deputies of the Parish, Hamlet, towne or other place, where the owner of the said cattel inhabiteth or dwelleth. Prouided alwayes & be it &c. that no person shalbe sued or otherwise compelled to yeelde, giue, or pay any maner of tithes for any manors, landes, tenements or hereditaments, which by the lawes & statutes of this Realme, or by any priuiledge or prescription, are not chargeable with the payment of any such tithes, or that be discharged by any composition real. Prouided alwayes and be it &c. that al such barren heath or waste ground, other then such as bee discharged for the payment of tithes by act of Parliament, which before this time haue lien barren, & paied no tithes by reason of the same barrennesse, and now be or hereafter shall be emproued and conuerted into arable ground or medowe, shall from hencefoorth after the ende and terme of vii. yeeres next after such improuement iustly ended & determined, pay tithe for the corne & haye, growing vpon the same, any thing in this acte to ẏ contrary in any wise notwithstanding. Prouided alwayes and be it &c. that if any such barren, waste, or heath ground hath before this time bene charged with the paiment of any tithes, and that the same be hereafter emproued & conuerted into arable grounde or medowe, that then the owner or owners thereof shall during vii. yeeres next following, from & after the same improuement, pay such kinde of tithe as was paide for the same before the saide improuement, any thing in this acte to the contrary in any wise notwithstãding. ¶ Treason.

WHereas diuers opinions hath bin before this time, what case should be adiudged treason, and what not: The King at the request of the Lords and of the Commons, hath made a declaration in the maner as hereafter followeth. That is to say, when a man doth compasse or imagine the death of our Soueraigne Lorde the King, or of the Lady his wife, or of their eldest sonne & heire, or if a man doth violate the Kings wife, or the Kings eldest daughter vnmarried, or the wife of the Kings eldest sonne and heire, or if a man doe leuie warre against our Soueraigne Lorde the King in his Realme, or be adherent to the Kings enemies in his Realme, giuing to them ayde and comfort in the Realme or elsewhere, and thereof be probably attainted of open deede by men of his condition: And if any man counterfeit the Kings great or priuie Seale, or his money, and if a man bring false money into this Realme counterfeit to the money of England, as the money called Lushburgh, or other, like to the sayd money of England, knowing the money to be false, to marchandise or make payment, in deceit of our sayd Soueraigne Lord the King, and of his people: And if a man slay the Chancellor, Treasurer, or the Kings Justices of the one bench or the other, Justices in Eyre, or Justices of Assise, and all other Justices assigned to heare and determine, being in their places doing their offices.

It is to be vnderstoode that the cases aboue rehearsed, ought to be iudged treason, which extendeth to our Soueraigne Lord the King, and his royall Maiestie. And of such treason the forfeiture of the escheates perteineth to our Soueraigne Lorde, as well of the landes and tenements holden of other as of himselfe. And moreouer there is another maner of treason, that is to say, when a seruant slayeth his master, or a wife her husband, or when a man secular or religious slayeth his prelate to whom hee oweth faith and obedience. And of such treason the eschcats ought to perteine to euery Lorde of his owne fee. And because that many other like cases of treason may happen in time to come, which a man can not thinke nor declare at this present time: It is accorded, that if any other case supposed treason, which is not aboue specified, doe happen before any Justices, the Justices shall tary without any going to iudgement of the treason, till the case bee shewed and declared before the King and his Parliament, whether it ought to be iudged treason or felonie. And if percase any man of this Realme ride armed couertly or secretly with men of armes against any other to slay him or rob him, or to take him or keep, til he hath made fine or ransome for to haue his deliuerance, it is not the minde of the King nor his Councell, that in such case it shalbe iudged treason, but shalbe iudged felonie or trespasse according to the lawes of the land of olde time vsed, and according as the case requireth.

And if he be take within any citie or towne corporate, then to be brought before the Maior, shirifs or baylifs of euery such town corporate. And that euery such Iustice of peace, high constable, Maiors, shirifes & bailifs, by their discretions, shall cause euery such idle person so to him brought, to bee had to the next market towne or other place, where the said Iustices of peace, high Constable, Maiors, baylifs & other officers, shal thinke most conuenient by his or their discretions, & there to be tied to the end of a cart naked, & be beaten with whips throughout the same market towne, or other place, til his body be bloody by reason of such whipping. And after such punishment and whipping had, the person so punished by the discretion of the Iustice of peace, high Constable, Maiors, shirifes, bailifes and other officers, afore whom such person shalbe brought, shalbe enioyned vpō his oth to returne forthwith without delay in the next straight way to the place where he was borne, or where hee last dwelled before the same punishment by the space of 3. yeres, & there to put himselfe to labour like as a true man ought to doe. And after that done, euery such person so punished & ordered, shall haue a letter sealed with ẏ seale of the hundred, rape, wapētake, citie, borough, towne, libertie or franchise, wherein he shal be punished, witnessing, ẏ hee hath bin punished according to this estatute, & cōteining the day & place of his punishment, and the place whereunto he is limited to go, and by what time hee is limited to come thither, within which time he may lawfully beg by the way, shewing the same letter, & otherwise not. And if he do not accomplish the order to him appointed by ẏ said letter, then to be eftsoons taken & whipped, & so as oft̄ as any default shalbe found in him cōtrary to ẏ order of this estatute, in euery place to bee taken & whipped, till he be repaired where he was borne, or where hee last dwelled by the space of 3. yeeres, & there put his body to labour for his liuing, or otherwise truely get his liuing without begging as long as he is able so to doe. And if ẏ person so whipped be an idle person, & no cōmon begger, then after such whipping he shalbe kept in the stocks til he hath found suertie to goe to seruice, or els to labour after the discretion of the said Iustice of peace, Maiors, shirifs, bailifes, high constables, or other such officers, afore whome any such idle person being no common begger, shall be brought, if by the discretion of the same Iustice of P. Maior, shiriffe, bayliffe, high constable or other such head officer, it be so thought conuenient, & that the party so punished be able to find suertie, or else to be ordered & sworne to repaire to the place where he was borne, or where hee last dwelled by the space of 3. yeres, & to haue like letter and such further punishment, if hee eftsoones offendeth this estatute, as is aboue appointed, to, & for the common, strong, & able beggers, & so from time to time to be ordered & punished, til he put his body to labour, or otherwise get his liuing truly according to the law. And that the Iustices of the P. of euery shire, riding, citie, towne & libertie, shal haue power and authoritie within the limites of their Commissions, to enquire of all Maiors, bailifes, constables & other officers, & persons that shalbe negligent in executing of this act.

And if the constables & inhabitants within any towne or parish where any such impotent person or strōg begger doth happen to beg, contrary to ẏ forme of this estatute, be negligent, & take not euery such impotent & strong begger ẏ so shall beg against the forme of this estatute, & order, & punish euery such begger as is aboue limited, that then the towneship or parish where such default shalbe, shal lose & forfeit for euery such impotent begger ẏ shalbe suffred to beg within the saide township or parish not being taken, ordered and punished, according to the forme of this estatute, 3. s. 4. d. & for euery strong begger ẏ shal happen to beg within any such township or parish, not being take and ordered as is aboue limited by this estatute, 6. s. 8. d. the one halfe of all which fork. to be to the king our soueraigne Lord, & the other halfe to him that will sue for the same by any bill of information afore the kings Iustices of his peace in their general sessions to be holden in the shire, or within the libertie where such default shall happen.

And that al Iust. of P. within any shire, citie, borough or libertie, shal haue ful power & authoritie, as wel to heare & determine euery such default by presentment, as by such bill of information, & vpon euery presentment afore them, & vpon euery such bil of information to make procesle by distresse against the inhabitants of euery such town and parish, where any default shall be presented or supposed by any such information.

9 ¶ Whereas the parts of this Realme of England and Wales bee presently with rogues, vagabonds and sturdie beggers, exceedingly pestred, by meanes whereof daily happen murders, thefts, and other great outrages, to the high displeasure of almightie God, and to the great annoy of the Common wealth: and for auoyding confusion by reason of numbers of lawes concerning the premisses, standing in force together: Bee it enacted that the Statute made in the 22. yeere of the reigne of the late King Henrie the eight, intituled, An Acte, concerning aged, poore, and impotent persons, compelled to liue by almes, howe they shall bee ordered, and howe vagabondes, and mightie strong beggers shall bee punished, (before 2.) And another Acte intituled, An Acte touching the punishment of Vagabondes and other idle persons, persons, made in the 3. and 4. yere of the late King Edward 6. before 5.) and an other acte made in the 5. yeere of the raigne of our Soueraigne Lady the Queenes Maiestie that nowe is, entituled: An acte for the reliefe of the poore (before 8.) And euery branch, article, clause, and sentence in them, and euery of them contained, shall be from and after the feast of S. Bartholomewe the Apostle next comming, vtterly voide, frustrate, and of none effect. (But nowe see here 2. the said act of 22. H. 8. in the greatest part therof reuiued.) Be it also enacted by ẏ authority of this present Parliamẽt, as well for ẏ vtter suppressing of the said outragious enemies to the common weale, as for the charitable relieuing of the aged and impotent poore people, in maner and forme following. First, that all and euery person and persons whatsoeuer they be, being aboue the age of fourteene yeeres, being hereafter set foorth by this act of Parliament to be rogues, vagabonds, or sturdie beggers, and be at any time after the feast of Saint Bartholomewe the Apostle next comming, taken begging in any part of this Realme, or taken vagarant, wandering and misordering themselues, contrary to the purport of this present act of Parliamẽt, in any part of the same, shall vpon their apprehension be brought before one of the Justices of peace, or Maior, or chiefe officer of cities, boroughs and townes corporate, within the Countie, Citie, Borough, or Towne corporat, where the apprehension shall happen to be, and by the said Justice or head officer, to be presently committed to ẏ common gaole of the said countie being apprehended within ẏ Countie, or els such other place as by the Justices of peace of that County, or three of them, at any their generall Sessions shall be appointed: and if he be taken within any City, Borough, or Towne corporate, then to be committed to the prison of the said city, borough, or Towne corporate, there to remaine without baile or mainprise, vntill the next Sessions of the peace, or generall gaole deliuery for the said shire, city, borough or towne corporate to be holden, which shall first happen, and the Constables, or other officers, for the conueying of such rogue or vagabond by commandement of the said Justices, to haue such reasonable charges for themselues and the prisoners from time to time, borne by the parish, or parishes where the saide rogue or vagabond shall happen to be taken, as in the discretion of ẏ Justices of peace presente at the next Assise, or at the Sessions of the peace then next kept within the limit where the prisonet is apprehended, shall seeme conuenient: (But see some alteration of this after 10) At which Sessions or Gaole deliuerie, if such person or persons be duely conuict of his or her rogish or vagabonds trade of life, either by enquest of office, or by the testimonie of two honest and credible witnesses vpon their othes: that then immediatly he or she shall be adiudged to be grieuously whipped, and burnt through the gristle of ẏ right eare, with a hot yron of the cõpasse of an inch about, (But nowe see here 11) manifesting his or her rogish kind of life, and his or her punishment receiued for the same, whereof entrie shall be made of record by the clerke of the peace of the same Shire in the records of the same Sessions, which iudgement shall also presently be executed, except some honest persons valued at the last subsidie next before that time, to giue pounds in goods, or twentie shillings in lands, or els some such honest houlholder, as by the Justices of the Peace of the same County, or two of them shalbe allowed, wil of his charitie be contented presently to take such offendour before the same Justices into his seruice for one whole yeere next following, and to that ende, will presently before the saide Justices enter into band by recognisance, to the vse of our Soueraigne Lady the Queene, to pay to our saide Soueraigne Lady the summe of fiue pounds, if he keepeth not the saide offendour in his seruice by the space of the said whole yeere, and so bring him or her vnto the Sessions at the yeeres end, or then good proofe of his or her death, during the saide yeere, the said Clerke of the Peace taking for the saide Recognisance but twelue pence onely. And if such rogue or vagabond so taken into seruice, depart within the saide yeere from the said seruice, against the wil of him that so taketh him or her into seruice: that then such rogue or vagabond shall be whipped and burnt thorow the gristle of the right eare with a hote yron, as is aforesaide. (But nowe see here after. 11.)

Prouided alwayes neuertheless, that if the saide person so committed, or to be committed, come before the next Sessions of the peace or the next gaole deliuery, to be holden for the said Countie, or before their committing, and doe finde any such suretie as is next before recited, to be bound in forme aforesaid for him or her, for one whole yeere: then the saide person shall not tarry in the 2 ¶ Forasmuch as many people are delayed of their right by false vouching to warranty, It is prouided, that in writs of possession, first of all in a writ of Mortdauncestour of cosinage, of aiel, Nuper obiit, of intrusion, & other like writs, wherby lands or tenements are demanded which ought to descend, reuert, remaine or eschete by the death of any auncestour, or otherwise if the tenant vouch to warranty, and the demandant counterpleadeth him, and will auerre by assise, and by the countrey, or otherwise, as the Court will award, that the tenant or his auncestour (whose heire he is) was the first that entred after the death of him of whose seison he demaundeth: The auerrement of the demaundant shall bee receiued, if the tenant will abide thereupon, and if not, hee shall be further compelled to another answere, if he haue not his warrantour present, that will warrant him freely, and incontinent entrie into the warrantie. Sauing vnto the demaundant his exceptions against him, if he will vouch further, as he had before against the first tenaunt. From henceforth in all maner of writs of entrie, which make mention of degrees, none shall vouch out of ỹ line, or in other writs of entrie, where no mention is made of degrees, which writtes shall not be mainteined but in cases where the other writtes of degrees can not lie nor holde place. And in a writ of right, it is prouided, that if the tenaunt vouch to warrantie, and the demaundant will counterplead him, and bee ready to auerre by the countrey, that he that is vouched, nor his auncestours, had neuer seison of the land or tenement demaunded, fee or seruice by the handes of the tenaunt of his ancestours, since the time of him, on whose seison the demaundant declareth, vntill the time that the writ was purchased, and the plea mooued, whereby hee might haue infeoffed the tenant or his ancestours: Then let the auerment of the demaundant be receiued, if the tenaunt will abide thereupon, and if not, the tenaunt shall be further compelled vnto another answere, if hee be not present that will warrant him freely, and not incontinent entry in answere. Sauing vnto the demaundant his exceptions against him, as he had afore against the first tenant. And the saide exception shall haue place in a writ of Mortdauncestour, and in other writtes before named, as well as in writs that concerne right.

And if percase the tenaunt haue a deede that compriseth warrantie of another man, which is bound in any of these cases before mentioned to the warrantie of his eldet degree, his recouery by a writ of warrantie of charters out of the kings Chauncery shall be saued to him, at what time soeuer he will purchase it, howbeit the plea shall not bee delayed therefore. 4 ¶ When any demaundeth lande against another, and the party that is impleaded, voucheth to warrantie, & the warrantour denieth his warrantie, and the plea hangeth long betweene the tenant and the warrantor: And at length when it is tried, that that the vouchee is bounde to warrantie by the Lawe and Custome of this Realme hitherto vsed, there was none other punishment assigned for the vouchee, that denied his warrantie, but onely that he should warrantise, and should be amerced, because hee did not warrant before, which was preiudiciall vnto the demaundant, because hee suffered often times great delayes by collusion betweene the tenaunt and the warrantour: Wherefore our souereigne lorde the king hath ordeined, that like as the tenant shoulde lose the land being in demaund in case where hee vouched, and the vouchee could discharge himselfe of the warrantie, in the same wise shall the warrantour lose, in case where he denieth his warrantie, and it be found and tried against him that he is bounden to warrantise. And if an enquest bee depending betweene the tenaunt and warrantour, and the demaundant will require a writ for to cause the Jury to come, it shall be granted him. W.2.cap.6. Anno 13.Ed.1.

5 ¶ Whereas the tenaunt in a plea of land heretofore had vouched one to warranty, and thereupon the demaundant woulde auerre, that hee, nor none of his ancestours (since the time that the ancestour of the demaundant was seised) was in possession of the sayd landes, neither in demeane nor in seruice, if the party vouched were present, and woulde warrantise the land freely vnto the tenant, such auerment of the demaundant hath not bene vsed to be admitted, except the party vouched had bene absent, and that by reason of a certeine Statute of the kings lately made amongst other statutes of Westminster. 1.cap.39.

Wherefore our souereigne lord the king considering the fraud, deceit, and malice, and also his owne dammage and disherison of his crowne, that in the sayde case hath many times happened in his court, and daily doth, wheras some holding of the king in chiefe by an whole Barony, in a plea hanging before the Justices of the Bench vpon their demand to vouch particularly knaues vnknowen and strangers (which they will bring foorth) of whome neither they nor their ancestours had neuer any thing in the landes, that they warranted, nor in any other landes or tenements within this Realme, neither in demeane nor in seruice, as hath bene testified by diuers of the kings faithfull subiects, so that by such cautell, fraud and malice, the same tenants holding by an entire Barony, doe defraud the king of the amerciament that they should incur if the demaundant shoulde recouer against them, & likewise when such persons haue warranted, that is to wit, euery one for his portion that hee ought to warrant, he may defend himselfe by the body of his seruant, procured and hired by them that hold Baronies, and so vpon one writ, and one demand, there were two or three wages of battels, the which was a right hard and perillous example for poore men, in time comming, that shall be demandants against great and rich men, which will defend themselues by the malice aforesayd: And the demandant can not haue his auerment against such warrantors, when they be vouched in forme aforesayd, because they be present and will warrantise freely, by his common counsell hath ordeined, and from henceforth, that is to say, from the feast of Saint Hillarie, the twentie yeere of his reigne, hee hath straitly commanded, that whatsoeuer tenant do vouch, and the demaundant will auerre in forme before rehearsed, his auerment shall be admitted, whether the party vouched be absent or present, without any respect had thereunto. 7 ¶ Where in the xxvii. yeere of the reigne of the late King Henrie the eight (before 6.) amongst other actes & statutes then made, it was enacted by authoritie of Parliament, that no person or persons at any time after the last day of Januarie, in the said 37. yeere, should haue, receiue, accept, or take in lucre, or gaines, for the loane, forbearing, or giuing day of payment of any summe of money, for one whole yeere, aboue the summe of ten pound in the hundred, and so after that rate, and not aboue, of, and for a more, or lesse summe, or for longer or shorter time, vpon the paines and forfeitures in the said acte mentioned and conteined. The which acte was not meant nor entended for the maintenance and allowance of vsurie, as diuers persons, blinded with inordinate loue of themselues, haue and yet doe mistake the same, but rather was made and intended against all sortes and kindes of vsurie, as a thing vnlawfull, as by the title and preamble of the said acte it doth plainely appeare. And yet nenertheless the same was by the saide acte permitted, for the auoyding of a more euill and inconuenience, that before that time was vsed and exercised. But forasmuch as vsurie is by the worde of God vtterly prohibited, as a vice most odious and detestable, as in diuers places of the holy Scripture it is euident to be seene, which thing by no godly teachings and perswasions can sinke into the hearts of diuers greedie, vncharitable, and couetous persons of this Realme, nor yet by any terrible threatnings of Gods wrath and vengeance, that iustly hangeth ouer this Realme, for the great and open vsurie therein daily vsed and practised, they will forsake such filthy gaine and lucre, vnlesse some temporall punishment bee prouided and ordeined in that behalfe. For reformation whereof be it enacted by the authoritie of this present Parliament, that from the first day of May, which shall bee in the yeere of our Lorde God, a thousand, fiue hundred, fiftie and two, the said Acte and Statute, concerning onely vsurie, lucre, or gaine, of, or for the loane forbearing, or giuing dayes of any summe or summes of money, be vtterly abrogated, voide, and repealed.

6 ¶ As touching them that vse to enfeffe their eldest sonnes and heires being within age, of their heritage, for to defraud the lords of the fee of their wardships: It is prouided & agreed, that by occasion of any such feoffement no chiefe Lord shal lose his ward. Moreouer touching them that faine false feoffements of their lands, which they would deliuer out for terme of yeres, for to defraud ẏ chief lords of their wards, wherin it is contained, that they are satisfied of ẏ whole seruice due vnto them vntil a certain terme, so ẏ such feffers are bound at the said terme to pay a certaine summe to the value of the same lands or farre aboue, so that after such terme, ẏ land shall returne to them or to their heires, because no mã wil be willing to keepe it vpon ẏ price. It is prouided and agreed, that by such fraud no chiefe lord shal lose his ward, neuertheless it shall not bee lawfull to them to disseise such feffees without iudgement, but they shall haue a writ for to haue the wardship pleded vnto them, and by the witnesses, contained in the deede of feoffement, with other frée and lawfull men of the Countrey, and by the quantitie and value of the land, and by the quantitie of the summe payable after the terme, it shall be tryed whether such feoffements were made in good faith, or by collusion to defraud the chiefe lords of the fee of their wards. And if the chiefe lords in such cases recouer their wards by iudgement, ẏ feoffees shall neuertheles haue their action to recouer such terme or fee (which they had therein) when the heires come to their lawfull age. And if any chiefe lords doe maliciously implead such feffees, feining this case, namely where the feoffements were made lawfully, and in good faith, then the feffees shall haue their dammages apparyed, and their costs which they haue sustained by occasion of the foresaid plea, and the plaintifs shall bee grieuously punished by amerciament. But in such cases, where wardshippes belong to the keepers of wardes being within age, & where keepers demand a wardship, which belongeth to the heire, or as appertaining to their inheritance: such heires within age shall not leese their inheritance by the negligence or rebellion of their keepers, as in the case afore rehearsed, but let the common law runne in like maner as it hath bene accustomed to do. Neither shal the said keepers giue or sell the marriage of such an heire, but to the aduantage of the foresaid heire. But the next kinsfolke which had the ward, (for all that time that writs of impleading doe not lie) shall haue such wardship vnto the aduantage of the heire, as is said before, without waste, sale, or destruction making. 10 ¶ Of heires married within age, without the consent of their keepers, afore that they bee past the age of fourteene peres, it shall be done according as it is contained in the statute of Merton. And of them which shall be married without the consent of their keepers, after they be past the age of xiiii. peres, the keeper shall haue the double value of their marriage after the tenor of the same acte. Moreouer such as haue withdrawen the marriage, shall pay the ful value thereof vnto the keeper for the trespasse, and neuertheless the king shall haue his amends according to the same act, of him that hath so withdrawē it. And of heires females after they haue accomplished the age of xiiii. peres, and the lord (to whom the marriage belongeth) will not mary them, but for couetousnes of the land wil keepe them vnmarried: It is prouided, that the Lord shall not haue nor keepe by reason of marriage, the lands of such heires females more then two peres after the terme of the saide xiiii. peres. And if the Lord within the sayde two peres do not marry them, then shal they haue an action to recouer their inheritance quite without giuing any thing for their wardship or their marriage. And if they of malice, or by ill counsel wil not be married by their cheife lords (where they shall not be disparaged) then their lords may hold their lande and inheritance, vntil they haue accōplished the age of an heire male, that is to wit, xxi. peres, and further, vntill they haue taken the value of the marriage. 13 ¶ Our Soueraigne Lord the king shall haue the ward of all the landes of such as hold of him in chiefe by knights seruice, whereof the tenants were seised in their demesne as of fee, at the day of their death (of whomsoeuer they hold els by like seruice, so that they held of ancient time any land of the Crowne) vntill the heire come to his lawful age, except the fees of ꝑ Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Durham, betweene Tine and Tees, fines of Earles and Barons in the marches, where the kings writs do not lie, and whereof the said Archbishops, Bishops, Earles & Barons, ought to haue such wardes, though they held of the King in some other place, Prærog. Regis, capitulo 1, 17. Edw. 2.

Bishops

14 ¶ Also the king shall haue the marriage of an heire being within age, and in his ward, whether the landes of such heires haue appertained to the Crowne of ancient continuance, or that it came by reason of escheate, being in the kings hands, or that hee had the marriage by reason of the warde of the lords of such heires, without any respect to the priorite of feoffement, albeit they held of other. Prærogatiua regis cap. 2. Anno 17. Edw. secundi.

King Marriage

15 ¶ If any woman (before the death of her ancestor that held of the king in chiefe) be married before she be marriage-able, then the king shall haue the warde of the body of the same woman, vntill she be of age to consent, and then she may choose whether shee wil haue him to whom she was first married, or him that the king will offer her. 16 ¶ It is to wit, that where any reliefe is giuen, there wardship is incident and cõtrariwise. And such as holde by sergeanty to goe with the king in his hoste, their warde and relefe are incident. And such as holde by petit sergeantie, as to beare shield or speare in the Kings hoste, to beare or to carie, there lyeth neither ward, marriage nor relefe. Also a free sokeman shall not giue ward nor relefe, but hee shall double his rent after the death of his auncestour, according as he hath vsed to pay, and shall not bee vnmeasurably grieued. Now somewhat is to be saide of the nature of hauing wards. There be two maner of Writtes to haue wards, one is where lands be holden in knights seruice, the other is where lands bee holden in socage. The ward of land that is holden in Knights seruice, belongeth to the chiefe Lord, and marriage, which ought to be without disparagement, as the great chartour limitteth vntill hee commeth to the age of one and twentie yeres. The ward of an heire that holdeth in socage, if the inheritance discend of his mothers side, then it belongeth to the next friend of the fathers side, and contrariwise. And a Writte to recouer warde, may bee brought in iii. maners: one is when a man demandeth ward of the land and of the heire, & that is in case when a man holdeth land of an other by knights seruice, & the tenant dieth, then may the chiefe lord (if he be defayced) demaund the ward of his land & heire, and shall haue both ward & marriage. An other maner is when a man is infeoffed of a rodde of lande by one man, mand, and by another, of another rod, the second Lord may nothing writ of ward to recouer either the lande or the heire, for the ward belonged to y^e Lord, of whom he was first infeoffed. The third maner is, where a man hath land in his hands by reason of a warde, and hath not the heire, then hee may bring a writ to demand the heire and not the land. An. 28. H. 1. stat. of Wards.

17 ¶ After the death of euery person which holdeth of the king in chiefe, that the escheators shall go to beleiue into the kings handes the lands, as pertaineth, without making waste in houses, woods, parks, ponds, and other proiections, which may fall to the damage of the heire. And hastily after y^e diem clausit extremum, deliuered to him, to returne the same by a good and true extent in the chancery: after which returne, if it be found that the heire is within age, and the next friends of the heire to whom the inheritance cannot descend, shal come & offer them to take the said lands, yeelding the value to the king, til the age of y^e heire, as farre forth as other wil yeeld without fraud by accord betwixt the chauncellor and the treasurer, they shall haue commission to keepe the said lands by good and sufficient suretie, till the age of the sayde heires, and to answere the king of the value. And it is not the kings intent, that by this statute hee bee forclosed to haue an action of waste against such gardeins and farmers, as hee and his ancestors haue had before this time: And that y^e heires when they come to their age, shal haue their action by writ of waste against such gardians and farmers. An. 14. E. 3. cap. 13.

18 ¶ Women being of the age of 14. yeres at the time of the death of their ancestors, without any question or difficultie shal haue deliuered vnto them their landes and tenements to them descended, for the law of the land will, that they shall haue the same. Anno 39. H. 6. cap. 2.

19 ¶ An. 14. E. 4. cap. 1. It was enacted that they that then should goe ouer with the King in his warres, might make feoffements and alienations of their lands, and might make their willes, and the feoffees and executors to haue the ward and marriage of the heire &c.

20 ¶ An. 4. H. 7. cap. 17. The statute of Marlebridge concerning collusion of wards is confirmed, and it is enacted that the lord of cestuique vse, no will declared &c. shall haue a writ of right of warde for the body and the land: and the heire of cestuique vse, being at full age at the death of his ancestour, shall pay reliefe, and the heire of cestuique vse shall haue like action of waste, as if the ancestor had died seised, as if the Lorde be barred in his writ of ward, the defendant shall recouer damnages.

21 ¶ Anno 4. H. 7. cap. 4. It was enacted that they that were or should bee in the Kings wages in Britaine, might make feoffements and willes, and the feoffees or executors to haue the ward and marriage of the heire &c.

22 ¶ Anno 7. H. 7. cap. 2. It was enacted that they that then should goe ouer with the king in his warres, might make feoffements and alienations of their landes, and might make their willes, and the feoffees to receiue the profits of the lands for a certaine time, saluing to the King the marriage of their heires, and that their heires should sue no liuery but haue a licence &c. and couenants of marriage to be good, and sergeants at armes to lose their fees that went not with the king.

23 ¶ Anno 3. H. 8. cap. 4. & Anno 14. H. 8. cap. 14. It was enacted that they that should go with the king in his wars, might alien their lands, without paying fines for the alienation, and that their heires within age should be in warde to the feoffee or executors &c.

24 ¶ The king &c. ordaineth, maketh, establisheth and erecteth a certaine court, commonly to be called for euer the court of the kings wards, which court by the authoritie afore said, continually and for euer shal be a court of record, and shall haue one seale to be engrauen and made, after such forme, fashion and maner, as shall be appointed by the kings highnes, and shall remaine and be ordered as hereafter shall be declared.

And also be it &c. that there shall be one certaine person to be named and assigned by the kings highnesse, his heires & successors, which shall be master of the same court, and shall be chiefe and principall Officer of the same court, and shall be called master of the wards, and shal haue the keeping of the said seale, to be assigned for the sayde court. And also be it &c. that there shall be one person to be learned in the lawes of this land, to be named and assigned by the Kings highnesse, which shall be called the kings attorney of the sayd court, and shall be the second Officer of the same court. according to the tenour ensuing. Yee shall sweare that yee well and truely shall serue the king as his atturney, in all courtes, for and concerning any matter or clause that shall concerne or touch the possessions and hereditaments limited to the suruey and gouernance of this court, and procure the kings profite thereof, and that ye shall truly counsell the king & the master of this court in all thing concerning the same, to the best of your cunning, wit and power, and that with all speede and diligence from time to time, at the calling of the sayde master, yee shall endeuor your selfe for the hearing and determination indifferently of such matters and causes as shall depend before the sayd master. And that yee shall not take any gift or reward in any matter or cause depending in ỹ same court or elswhere, wherein the king shalbe partie, whereby the kings maiestie shalbe hurted, hindered, or disherited, and further ye shall doe to your power, wit and cunning, all & euery thing, that shal appertaine to your office, So helpe you God and all saints. And the said receiuer ge- Receiuer nerall shall take a corporall othe before the Othe said master of the said court, according to the tenor ensuing. Ye shall sweare that ye shall well & truely serue the king our soueraigne lord and his people in the office of the generall receiuer of his court. And ye shal reasonably and honestly procure the kings profit, and doe right to all maner of people, poore and rich, in those things which touch your office. And the kings receit of his money you shall truely keepe, dispend, pay, and deliuer, and true declaration & account thereof shall make from time to time, without any concealment, according to this act made for the stablishment of this court: And further shall doe euery thing that of right appertaineth to your Office, So helpe you God and all saints.

Also the said auditours shall take a cor- Auditors poral othe before the saide master after the Othe tenor ensuing. Ye shal sweare that ye truly shall serue the king in your office, and true allowance make to euery person, which shall be accountant before you, and you shall not take nor receiue of poore nor rich any gift or rewarde in any matter or cause depending or to be discussed in the same court, but such as shall be ordinarie appertaining to your office, whereby the king shalbe hurted, hindered, or disherited, and ye shal do all and euery thing, which shalbe appertaining to your office, so helpe you God & al saints.

Also

Also all particular auditours, that shall belong and be appointed to the sayd court, shall take a like corporall othe before the said master of the wards. Ye shall sweare as is before in the next article.

Receiuers Also all particular receiuers appointed by the said master, atturney, receiuer generall, and auditours, or three or two of them, whereof the master to be one, to receiue any reuenues and profites within the suruey of the same court, shall take a corporall othe before the said master of the wards after the tenor ensuing.

Othe Ye shall sweare that ye truly shall serue the king in your office, & nothing conceale, but true accolle make of all such reuenues, rents, summes of money, and other profits wherewith ye shall be lawfully charged by reason of your office: ye shall make no petition nor aske allowance but such as shalbe good, iust, true, & reasonable, and also truly content & pay to the king all such summes of money as shall come to your hands: and ye shall do all and euery thing and things, which ye ought to doe by reason of your office, according to the forme and effect of this act, so helpe you God and all Saints.

Clerkes Also the said clerks of the councel of the said court, & euery of them shall take a corporall othe before the said master after the tenor ensuing.

Othe Ye shall sweare that ye shall well & truly serue the king in your offices of clerkes of the councel of his court, and truly do and execute all & euery thing and things which ye ought to doe by reason of your office, according to the forme and effect of this act, so helpe you God and all Saints.

Surueyers Feodaries Also that all surueyers & feodaries that shalbe appointed by the said master, atturney, receiuer generall, and auditors of the said court, or three or two of them, whereof the master to be one, shall take a corporal

Othe othe before the said master. Ye shall sweare &c. vt in proximo articulo precedente.

Also be it &c. that all wards, which the kings highnesse now is, or hereafter shall be intituled to haue, with their manors, lands, tenements, rents, remainders, reuersions, seruices, and all other hereditaments whatsoeuer they be, as well in possession, as in reuersion, and all reuenues, issues, profits of the same and euery part therof, for the time the same shalbe or ought to be in the kings possession, shall be in the order, suruey and gouernance of the said court, and the ministers of the same, in maner and forme as by this act is declared and limited.

Also be it &c. that the sayd master of the wards, atturney, receiuer generall, and auditours, or three of them, whereof the sayd master shall be one, for the time being, shall haue authoritie to make sale and graunt of Sale the kings wards, and of euery of them from time to time, and of such part and portion of the lands in possession and reuersion or any of them, during the minoritie and nonage of the same ward that shall be so solde and granted, and as long as the same lands or reuersion shall remaine or be in the Kings hands, as they shall thinke most conuenient. The same sale and graunt to passe by the kings bill assigned, which bill assigned shal be warrant sufficient to the Chancellor of Warrant England for the time being, to make forth the kings letters patents vnder the great seale of England, according to the tenor of the same bill, paying for the same all & singuler like fees for sales and writings, as Fees heretofore hath bin vsed and accustomed to be paid for the same in the Chancery, and to the signet & priuy seale, & to euery of them.

Also be it &c. that the said master of ꝑ wards Master for the time being, with the aduice of the said atturney, and receiuer generall, or one of them, shall haue authority without the kings bill assigned to make woodsales to Woodsales the kings vse, of all vnderwoods, vpon any Vnder-woods of the kings wards lands, being lawfully in the kings possession, and to take and appoint timber for the necessary reparations Repaire of all the castels, manors, lands, tenements and parks of the said wards, and shall haue also like power and authority in the kings name, to make leases during the minoritie Leases of the said wards: and further as is aboue written, by their discretions, of all and singuler lordships, manors, lands & tenements remaining in the kings hands and possession, belonging to the said wards and euery parcell thereof, yeelding to the kings highnesse, his heires and successors, such rents, as by the said master of the wardes, atturney, receiuer generall, and auditours, or three of them, whereof the said master to be one, shalbe thought conuenient by their discretions and suruey. And be it &c. that the said master of the wards for the time being, Master shall haue authority by this act, to make and appoint all and singuler particular receiders, feodaries, and surueyers in euery shire, and also fees for the executing of the same vnder the seale of the same office, in such wise as the same officers may be alwayes remoueable at the discretion of the said court. Also be it &c. that the said master of the wards for the time being, shall haue authoritie by this act, to make allowance likewise of the rolls of all commissioners, particular receiuers, surueyers, auditors, counsellers and feodaries, and euery of them, by his bill assigned, which bill shalbe warrant sufficient to the auditors belonging to the same office, to make due allowance of the same. Also be it &c. that the said master of the wards in all places, & the said atturney, receiuer generall, and auditors, or two of them in the said court, the said master being absent, shall haue power and authoritie to take obligations to the kings vse of euery particular receiuer, which shalbe assigned to the said court, and of his sureties for sure payment of his recrits: And also to take obligations to the kings vse aswell of euery farmer, bailifs, reeue, or other accountants, for the true paiment of their receits, and of euery person or persons which shall be indebted to the kings highnesse for any arrerages of his or their receits, farmes or charges, as of any other person or persons for any other cause or matter concerning the premisses, determinable within the same court. And that all such obligations and writings obligatorie, of what summe soeuer they be, shalbe of the same strength, vertue, force, qualitie, & effect, to all intents and purposes, as writings obligatory heretofore made by any lay person by authority of the statute of the staple, bene or ought to be. And that vpon certificate hereafter to be made into the kings Chancery of any such writings obligatorie to be taken for such paiments, like processe and executions shall be thereupon had or made, against any person spirituall or temporall, as hath bene accustomed to be made against any lay person, vpon certificate of writings obligatorie of the said statute of the staple. Also that the said master of the wards for the time being, shall haue full power and authoritie to award vnder the seale to be appointed to the said court in the kings name such processe and precepts with reasonable paines to be therein limited, as be now commonly vsed in the court of the kings duchy chamber of Lancaster, being at Westminster, against euery person or persons whatsoeuer they be, for and concerning the interest, right and title of the Kings Maiestie, his heires and successors, of, in, or for any wards lands, tenements, rents, account, receit, seruices, or other cause in any wise touching or concerning any thing appointed to the order of the said court, or any part thereof, for and on the behalfe of our said soueraigne Lord the king, or of, or for any debt rising or growing by occasion of the same. Also be it &c. that the said atturney, receiuer general and auditors, shall diligently from time to time attend vpon the master in the said court, for the hearing & ordering of matters and causes in the same court, for the time of foure termes of the yere vsually kept for the law at Westminster, and procure with all diligence, that all rents, farmes, profits, casualties, improuements, and other emoluments of the wardes marriages, idiots, and of all manours, lands, tenements and hereditaments, being in the suruey and gouernance of the said court, shall be truely and iustly payed & answered to the said receiuer generall of the said court, to the vse of the kings highnesse, without concealing any part thereof: And also shall cause and procure processe to be made against such as shall be indebted to the kings highnesse, and their sureties, of and for any part thereof from time to time, as the time and case shall require without any delay. And be it &c. that the said clerks, particular receiuers, auditors, surueyers, messengers and vsher, and euery of them, shall vpon reasonable warning giue at all times & places from time to time attendance vpon the said master for the time being, being for the due execution and expedition of the premisses without delay, vpon such paines as shall be assessed by the kings Maiestie, vpon information thereof giuen by the said master to his highnesse.

Also be it &c. that if any of the sayd officers appointed for the same court doe conceale and withdraw willingly any rents, reuenues, casualties, or other profits, falling, growing, or cõming to the king by the minority of any of his graces wards, or by reason of any other thing appointed by this act of the said court, that then the officers so offending, shall lose to ỹ king our soueraigne lord, the double value of the thing so concealed or withdrawen. Also be it &c. that the auditors generall of the wards lands, and euery of them for the time being, shall haue authoritie to examine the accounts of all particular accountants taken by any particular auditor or auditors vpon any part of the wards lands, idiots lands, and of other things appointed by this act to the order of the said court, and to allow and disallow all that that shalbe reasonable within the sayde accomptes, as largely as to the sayd master of the wards, atturney, receiuer general & auditors, or three of them, whereof the said master to be one, shalbe thought expedient and necessary. And that euery of ẏ sayd particular accomptants for the yere to be ended at the feast of S. Michael the archangel yerely for euer, shall make & finish his accompt, and certifie the same into the sayd court before the first day of February next after the same feast insuing, and within three moneths next after the sayd accompt, to make full payment to the receiuer generall of the said court of all such summes of money, as shall appeare to bee due to the king by the said accompt. And be it &c. that the said Receiuer generall for the time being, shal haue authoritie by this acte, to giue his acquittance of and for such money and obligations, as hee shall receiue of them to the kings vse, for the wards landes, idiots landes, and other things appointed to the said court.

Accomptants

Acquittance

And that his sayde acquittance shall bee from henceforth sufficient acquittance and discharge, as well for the discharge of the parties against ẏ kings highnes, his heires and successours for paiment of so much money, as also to ẏ auditor for the time being, for making due allowance of ẏ same. And be it &c. that the saide receiuer generall, before the twenty day of March next after the feast of S. Michael the Archangell, shall perely declare truely his whole accompt to the sayd master of the wards, atturney, and to one or both of the said auditors general, of ẏ wards landes, which master, atturney, and one or both of the said auditors, shall by this act haue authoritie to make and determine ẏ same accompt, before the last day of July next ensuing, vpon which determination of accompt, the saide receiuer generall within one moneth next ensuing the determination of the same accompt, shall truely content and pay to the Kings vse all such summes of money as shal appeare to be due to the kings highnesse, & vnpaide vpon the same accompt. And forasmuch as certaine Justices did not agree in giuing of the saide iudgement, because it seemeth to some, that it should not be agreeable to ỹ law, that any person should obtaine aduantage and recompence by the foresaid writ, which is a writ of trespasse done to a person certaine, but onely the same person to whom & in whose time the trespasse was done. Other Justices with the more part of the kings counsel, were in the contrary opinion, alledging by diuers reasons, that the said William ought to be heard and answered vnto, and all other whatsoeuer they be, in like cases, or in like trespasses, And for because like matters haue remained not amended, and trespasses vnpunished, which was inconuenient: Our Soueraigne Lord the king in his full Parliament, holden the day after the feast of the Purification in the xx. yeere of his reigne, by a general counsel hath ordeyned and from hencefoorth hath commaunded to to be straighely obserued, that euery heire in whose warde soeuer he Heire be, and aswell within age, as of full age, shal haue his recouery by a writ of waste in the Waste foresaide case, and also in other where the same writ ought to holde place, and it shall holde place aswell for waste and destruction made in landes and tenements of his owne inheritance, and aswell in the times of his ancestors, as at any other time that the fee and inheritance discended vnto him, and shall be answered vnto therefore: And that he shall recouer the landes wasted and dammages, as it is ordeyned in the Statute of Westminster of dammages to be recouered in a writ of waste, if the tenant be Recouer Dammages conuict for the waste.

And it is commaunded by the king himselfe vnto the same Gilbert Thornton and his companions, that they doe proceede in the foresaide matter, and in other like from hencefoorth, and iudgement shall be giuen according as the matter is found. 9 Item, because that diuers people in times past haue let their landes and tenemẽts to diuers persons, that is to say, some for terme of life, or of another mans life, & some for terme of yeeres, the sayd tenants haue often times let and graunted their estate, which they had in the same lands and tenements to many persons, to the intent that they in the reuersiõ, that is to say, their lessors, their heires, or their assignes, ought not to haue any knowledge of their names, and afterward the sayd first tenants continually occupy the sayd lands & tenements, and thereof take the profits to their proper vse, and in the sayd lands and tenements do waste and destruction, to the disheritance of them in the reuersion: It is ordeined and established, that they in the reuersiõ in such case may haue & maintaine a writ of waste against the said tenants for terme of life, of another life, or for yeres, and so recouer against them the place wasted, and their treble dammages for the waste so by thẽ done, as they ought to haue done, for the waste done by them before the said grant & lease of their estate. Prouided alwayes, that this ordinance hold not place, but where the first tenants before the lease and grant of their said estates in the maner and forme aboue sayd, were punishable of waste, and also where after the said grant and lease, the said first tenants of the sayd landes and tenements take the profits at the time of the waste done to their owne proper vse. Provided alwaies and be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaide, that it shall and may be lawfull to and for the owners of such trees, the bodies whereof haue beene or shall be from time to time converted and employed to or for any manner of timber or cleft ware within the weildes of Sussex, Surrey, or Kent, or any of them, the same not being within eighteene miles of the Citie of London, or eight miles of the riuer of Thames, or iiii. miles of ẏ townes of Rye and Winchelsey, or within three miles of Hastings, or within foure miles of the foote of the hilles called the Downes betweene Arundell and Pemsey in the Countie of Sussex aforesaide, or any of them, to imploy the toppes and offalles of all such trees, to or for Coales or other Fuell, seruing to or for yron workes, at their owne will and pleasures, this statute or any other to the contrary hereof in any wise notwithstanding. And forasmuch as the high wayes in the saide Counties of Sussex, Surrey & Kent, are in many places greatly empaired and spoiled by meanes of Carriages of Coles, Mines and yron, to and from the yron works in the said Counties, to the great hinderance of the common passages of the Queenes Maiesties subiects trauailing through the same: For remedie whereof, bee it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaide, that the occupiers of all maner of yron workes whatsoeuer, as owners or farmours of the same, by or for any estate or estates of inheritance for life, liues, or for terme of yeere or yeeres, which shall at any time hereafter carrie or cause to be caried any Coles, Mine or yron, to or for any their yron woorkes, betweene the twelft day of October, and the first day of May yeerely, shall likewise yeerely carrie and lay, or cause to bee caried and laide for euery fiue loades of Coles or Mine, as wel as also for euery Tunne of yron which shall be caried by any manner of Waine or care, betweene the said twelft day of October, and the first day of May, yeerely by the space of one mile thorowe any high wayes, being vnder any the hilles commonly called the South Downes of Surrey and Kent, to or from any maner of yron worke, one vsuall cart loade of sinder, grauell, stone, sand or chalke, meete for the repairing and amending of the saide high wayes to bee layd and imployed in such place and places of the high wayes, as any Iustice of the peace of any of the Counties aforesaide, dwelling neere vnto the places where the high wayes within the limites aforesaide shall be most annoyed by any the meanes aforesaide, according to the greater and more present necessitie shall bee appointed or assigned, or els pay or cause to be paide, for and in allowance of euery cart loade, in manner and fourme aforesaide to haue bene so caried and laide, two shillings and sixe pence, within eight dayes after the demaund thereof, to the hands of the saide Iustice of Peace or his assignes, the same to bee leuied after default of payment vpon the demaund thereof from time to time, vpon such yron as shall bee by and thorowe the same high wayes so carried, by way of distresse. And if such Iustice of Peace, by reason of absence or other occasion, doe not or shall not within fourtie dayes next after the saide first day of May, yeerely assigne or appoint where and in what place of the high wayes, the saide Sinder, Grauell, Stone, Sand or Chalke, to be caried as aforesaide, shall be laide, or where and how the money thereof due or so paide, shalbe employed and bestowed: That then the same sinder, grauell, stone, sande or chalke, shall be laide and employed, by such person and persons as by this Act are to carie and lay the same, or to cause the same to be caried and laide in such place and places of the high wayes, as the Surueiours of the high wayes within the Parish for the time being, where the high waies shalbe most annoyed as is aforesaide, shall assigne or appoint, or in default thereof pay to the saide Surueyours for euerie such loade due and vncaried, two shillings and sixe pence in manner and forme aforesaide, vpon paine of forfeiture of tenne shillings for euery loade of Sinder, Grauell, Stone, Sand or Chalke not caried, laide and employed in the high wayes, or two shillings and sixe pence vnpaide as is aforesaide, to be forfaited and paide by the person & persons which by this Act ought to carie and lay, or cause to bee caried and laide the Sinder, Grauell, stone, sande, or chalke, or therefore to haue paide as is aforesaide, after due presentment and conuiction thereof had before the Iustices of Oyer and Terminer, or Iustices of Peace in any of their open Session or Sessions to bee holden before them or any of them.

All

All which fumme and fummes of money to be forfeited by reaſon of this acte, for or in default of carriage and laying of the ſaide Sande, Grauell, Stone Sand or Chalke, or payment thereof as aforeſaide, ſhall bee likewiſe beſtowed and employed vpon the amendment and repairing of the high wayes in the ſaide Pariſhes, where the cauſe or forfeiture by default or refuſall grewe and was giuen, as and by the diſtrection of any ſuch Juſtice of peace as ſhal dwell and be reſiant next vnto the place or places being moſt annoyed by the cariages aforeſaide, and where the money therefore due ſhould haue bene paide as aforeſaide, and the ſame to bee leuied by by way of diſtreſſe by any Conſtable, Tithingman, Hedborough, or other officer thereunto to be aſſigned by warrant made in open Seſſions by any Clerke of the Peace of the Countie where any the offence or offences aforeſaide ſhall be committed, or by any two Juſtices of ỹ peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, which were preſent at the Seſſions, wherein the ſaide conuiction of or for any the offences aforeſaid ſhalbe had. And if no ſufficient diſtreſſe can bee founde by the ſayde officer appointed to leuie the ſame, or if the ſaide offender ſhall obſtinately refuſe to pay the ſame forfeiture, or doe not pay the ſame within twentie dayes after a lawfull demaund of the ſame, by the ſaide officer to bee appoynted for the leuying thereof as aforeſaide, that then euery perſon ſo denying or refuſing, and not paying the ſame forfeiture within twentie dayes as aforeſaide, to forfeite the double ſumme hee ſhould before haue paide, to bee leuied by ſuch wayes and meanes, as to two of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought moſt meete: the ſame forfeiture to be likewiſe imployed vpon the amendment of the high wayes, as the other forfeiture ſhould haue bene, if the ſame had bene leuied, according to the true intent and meaning of this Statute.
